Neumann Homes proposal rejected by village board, issue not dead

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

Though the board of directors of the Village of Antioch voted to accept the recommendation by the combined planning commission and zoning board to reject the proposal put forth by Neumann Homes for 1,308 houses on 634 acres, it's unlikely that the developer will walk away from the project.

550 people An estimated lingered on after the nearly two hour long public regarding a proposed annexation agreement to bring another 55 acres of Neumann Homes property into the village. The board opened the regular meeting, and immediately went into executive session for over an hour. When the board returned at 10 p.m. an unusual chain of events took place leading to the eventual conclusion to deny Neumann Homes' petition. Trustee Scott Pierce made a motion to remand the matter back to the combined planning commission and zoning board. The motion was immediately seconded by trustee Bob Caulfield making it impossible for Barbara Porch to make her own motion to accept the recommendation put forth by the plan commission until Pierce's motion had been voted.

Pierce's motion based on the opinion and recommendation of village attorney Donald Anderson who said the plan commission's recommendation was "not legally sufficient to support denial."

Discussion ensued and trustee Larry Hanson said, "We've been through a year and one-half of destruction to the community. I think Mary (Oldenburger) hit it in a nutshell (that action to deny Neumann Homes on the basis of numerous variances against village ordinance and possible public safety is defensible). We made the decision in 1992 based on the information we had. I feel we are in the same situation now. I want to firm and strong, and I want to believe in this commu-

Caulfield countered, "We were given a decision by the planning and zoning board that won't hold up. Give me something to work with that will allow me to make a decision."

When the vote was called for, Caulfield was the only trustee who to remand the issue back to the plan commission. Pierce voted against his own motion as well as trustees Dorothy Larson, Wayne Foresta, Porch and Hanson.

Porch jumped in, "I would like to make a motion that we accept the recommendation based on that the variances are unacceptable." Hanson seconded the motion and added, "We have justification based on our ordinances and the draft variances."

From there, each trustee except Caulfield added something to be added to the motion. Larson said, "The park board hasn't taken any action that they approve this proposal. If Neumann Homes wants credit for the amenities (clubhouse, pool, etc.), then they have to go in at Phase 1. The people who will be living there will impact our community."

Pierce added, "There are 287 lots that are not adjacent to open space, and are not in conformance with our village code." Foresta chimed in, "The water and sewer has not been put through."

Hanson said, "If they can fit within the ordinances, etc. of 1992, then that changes the whole ballgame."

Caulfield, defending his previous actions said, "The roadmap has been laid, It's so easy to bow to public pressure. Sometimes you think you are voting for one thing, and it's really something else."

Anderson clarified that the board was making the decision to accept the plan commission's recommendation, but for reasons other than those put forth by the commission.

Caulfield passed on the vote, but all other trustees voted in favor of accepting the plan commission's recommendation.

Ex-trustee questions Neumann's resolve

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

Former trustee Marvin Oldenburger questioned Neumann Homes' resolve to follow through with the various lawsuits pending or threatened against the Village of Antioch and two individual trustees at the regular meeting of the board before recommendation of the plan commission came up for vote.

"I don't really think they are firm in their resolve to bankrupt a town they want to put in their sales brochure," said Oldenburger. "The agreement (1992 settlement agreement) says that they can't have more than 1,330 homes...If the variances are gone, the density won't be there."

He talked about the importance of looking at the safety issues that go. hand in hand with some of the variances. Of one particularly long cul de sac, Oldenburger said, "If a tree falls across the road or a car stalls, how will the fire department get in there. I sure wouldn't want to be that person at the end of the cul de sac then if my house was on fire or I was having a heart attack."

Oldenburger said he thought it was a stretch for Neumann Homes to think a judge would award damages for delay "when there are issues of fact" referring to the lack of water and sewerage to the property.

He made an analogy using cars, and making the decision to pull in front of a vehicle traveling 50 mph because it has a red light though is showing no signs of slowing down. He said, "You can't say, 'Your Honor, I saw a good lawsuit coming, so I pulled out." He then added, "You can't just go merrily on your way and bankrupt the village."

Oldenburger concluded, "The realism is that one day you (the village board) are going to have to approve development on this property...Use only good reasons (to deny), and you will win."

Derby competition heats up

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

Derby day in Antioch has nothing to do with horses and everything to do with small non-motorized cars whizzing past crowds of delighted spectators. Though this is only the second annual derby box soap sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and Industry, the event is fast becoming one of the town's most popular traditions.

The derby is part of Antioch's Taste Summer festivities and will be held on July 21 at 3 p.m. on Orchard St. east of Main St., and is the only event not taking place on Toft St.

Last year hundreds of people lined Orchard St. to cheer on the participants and check out the imaginative variations of the soap box racers. "We're expecting great things this year," said Barbara Porch, executive director of the Chamber. "The turnout was wonderful last year,. probably about 400 people, and we're expecting even more this year."

There are ten entries so far within the three categories of adult, youth and child with the latter division comprising half of the total entries. Each car will have one driver and one pusher. Raymond Chevro-

> "Last year there were several different categories of competition," said Porch. "This year, we will just have one first-place winner for each group. Every participant, whether a driver or a pusher, will get a trophy, though."

Therapist celebrates 10,000 massages at Antioch office

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

Antioch massage therapist Terrence Kempher celebrated massage number 10,000 in five years of business and said, "I'm just getting warmed up."

Kempher's business EarthDance Massage blends various massage techniques providing a unique and individualized experience. "It's an eclectic style," he said. "I use what is necessary for that person; each massage is designed based on the person's needs."

Though he now lives in Lake Villa, Kempher first learned and was licensed while he lived in Hawaii. He is both a Kuma Lomi (Hawaiian Lomilomi massage instructor) and a Kanaka Lomi Mua (senior Hawaiian Lomilomi practitioner).

Kempher describes his methods as a "massage journey" that incorporate tribal drums and the power of breath. "It's an invigorating massage," he said. "I've taken the best of all that I have learned and blended it together.

Prices range from $50-$95, with the least expensive being a neck, shoulder and back massage that lasts anywhere from 45 minutes to one hour. Private instruction is given to couples for $95 for three hours per person.

Kempher said his clients come almost exclusively through word of mouth, and that there is currently a waiting list for appointments. He can be reached at 762-6404.

Plan commission unanimously recommends Heron Harbor unit 6

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

The final plat of Heron Harbor unit 6 will be presented to the board of directors of the Village of Antioch at its next regular meeting scheduled for July 23 at 7:30 p.m. at Village Hall, as the combined plan commission and zoning board unanimously approved recommending the proposal.

Planning and zoning director Bob Silhan found the proposal for 69 single family lots on Bowles Rd. to be in substantial conformance with the Planned Unit Development (PUD), with only two issues to be addressed: a sidewalk for Unit 4 and changing the cul-de-sac from center to left offset.

After the meeting Silhan explained that the cul-de-sac offset allows for two movements instead of three to get a snowplow through, and also leaves a place to put the snow that has been shoveled. This change had already been made to the plan at the time of the meeting.

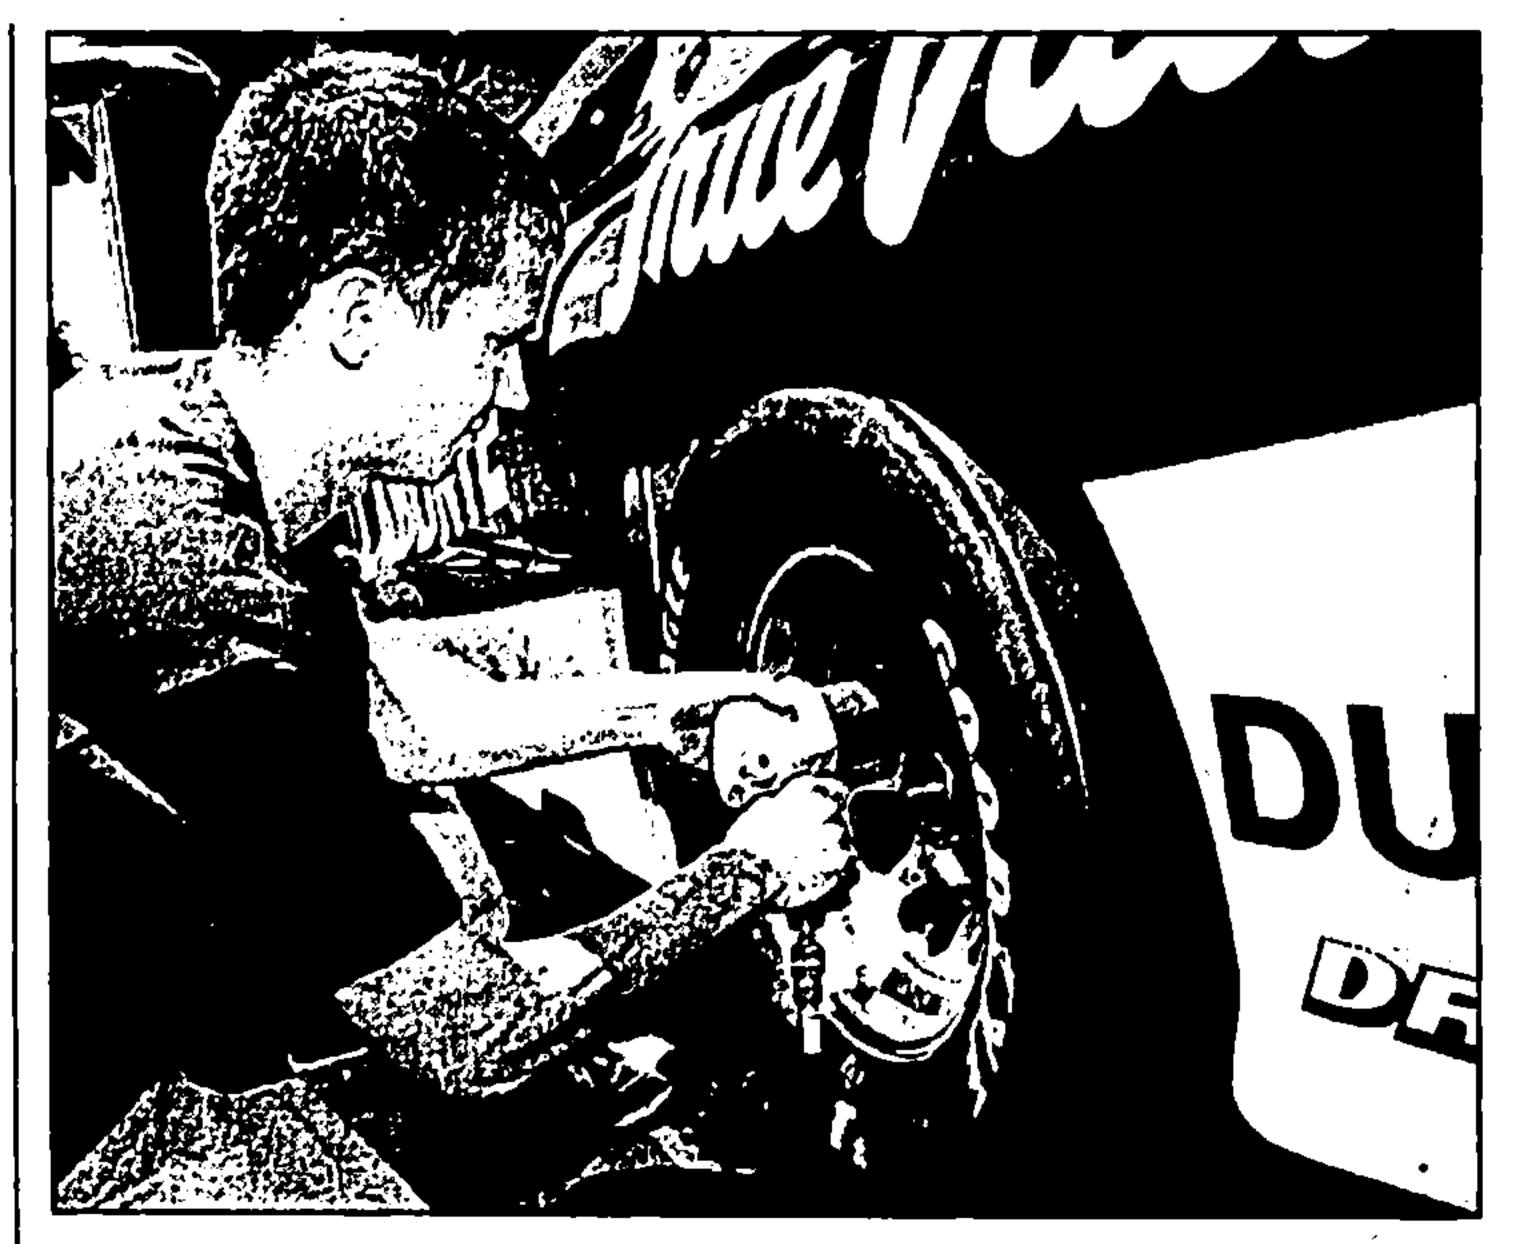

The "sidewalk issue," as it was referred to by Silhan, was a little trickier due to trees planted by a previous developer. The sidewalk is to run behind the backyards of some of the houses in Unit 4, but the most logical placement for the sidewalk is blocked. "The previous builder planted a line of trees, and now they are too big to move," said Silhan.

When asked whether the sidewalk could run right along the street, Silhan answered, "There needs to be a parkway there (due to snow in the

It was decided that the builder would happily pour the sidewalk at the same time as the streets and curbs for the new unit when there is agreement between the village and consulting engineers Clark Dietz as to the exact alignment of the sidewalk.

Commissioner Don Jansky asked if there is a time frame when the next phase of a development should begin. Silhan answered, "We have neither a rule of thumb nor an ordinance." Presenter Ken Meyer said, "Phase 4 had 56 lots, and 51 are sold. That's why we are starting this now. Phase 5 is for townhomes, and that's different."

Meyer added, "Half of our buyers are empty nesters buying single story ranch homes. We have nine ranch models. This will be less impact for the schools."

No action taken on 55acre Neumann property

'I'm not in favor of the village condemning property to serve a developer in developing neighboring property.'

Marvin Oldenburger

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

Mayor Taso Maravelas announced at the beginning of the continued public hearing for the proposed annexation agreement of the 55-acre Neumann Homes site that no action would be taken. Despite that, the board would not have been able to take any action, as the developer did not provide village officials with the updated proposal for their review.

Jerry Callahan made the presentation on behalf of Neumann Homes and said the developer was requesting zoning under E-1, the most restrictive zoning under Illinois state statute. "We're not looking for the 114 homes that could be allowed per sewer and water," he said. He added that if Neumann's other proposal before the board for 1,308 homes on 634 acres did not go through, this annexation would not go forward.

Trustee Dorothy Larson complained, "I don't have a current copy of the request you're working from...The letter says the village would grant re-zoning from E-1 to R-1 (less restrictive residential zoning) zoning...How do we know which parts (of the letter) are relevant, and which aren't?"

Though Callahan insisted, "It's not what we're requesting," the board wasn't willing to discuss what they did not have before them. Trustee Barbara Porch summed it up: "We need to see the new agreement before we make any comment on it."

The floor was then open for public comment, and many of the estimated 550 people in attendance voiced distrust over the developer's intentions.

Former trustee for the Village of Antioch Marvin Oldenburger said, "I would speak against the annexation of the 55 acres. It will only serve to help the developer increase the density (to the other property)...I do not believe that the village board should condemn property to bring water and sewer to this property...I'm not in favor of the village condemning property to serve a developer in developing neighboring property."

Oldenburger Additionally, brought out that Neumann Homes asked to be exempt from reimbursing the village for the costs of attorneys and engineers. He said, "These are all special deals for the developer-to accommodate the developerit's changing all the rules...The developer should live and die by our ordinances and procedures."

Carpool lot issue still unresolved

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

At the recommendation of the mayor, resident Tom Pingel attended the board of directors of the Village of Antioch to see if a solution had been reached to help solve the carpool parking dilemma he and two fellow residents face.

Incoming Village Administrator Mike Haley said, "That item was inadvertently left off the agenda. I don't know if the board is ready to discuss that."

Claude LeMere, who still does work for the village in the capacity of community development director, looked up and made copies of the comprehensive parking plan created in 1996 for the trustees to review. It was noted that the trustees had received these copies earlier the same day.

Trustee Dorothy Larson said,

"Claude's objections seem to be that it would take spots away from retail or from train parkers."

Trustee Wayne Foresta expressed concern about potential problems if long-term parking is brought back to the village. Hanson concurred and said, "We had a problem even before this parking plan."

Pingel expressed frustration with the board for not having made a decision on his behalf.

AWC officers installed, commitments made

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

At the closing luncheon of the Antioch Woman's Club (AWC) for the 2000-2001 year, the club accepted 13 new members and installed officers for the upcoming year.

Barbara Gray will replace Sue Allen as president. Allen has plans to move to Florida. Other new officers include the following: Sharon Oldenburger, vice president; Nanci Sorensen, president elect; Chris Murphy, recording secretary; Joan Foss, correspondence secretary; Mabel Lou Weber, treasurer; and Florence Pedersen, parliamentarian.

The club founded the Antioch Library in 1921-1922, and as part of its continuing support has announced that it will finance the furniture for the new addition to the library. Ground breaking for that addition is scheduled for July 21 at 11 a.m.

Regular AWC meetings will resume on the second Wednesday of each month at the Antioch Methodist Church hall beginning in September and running through May. New members are welcomed, and those interested can call Betty Schroeder at 395-8312 for more information.

Take a taste of what Antioch has to offer ne of the most anticipated events is here and it's time to take a Taste of Summer. The four-day event will be held July 19-22 all day and well into the night.

The scope of the event is huge with food, bands, rides, a huge sidewalk sale and the second annual soapbox derby. Residents as well as visitors will get a "taste" of what people love about Antioch - its small town atmosphere and oldfashioned fun.

More than double the amount of restaurants from last year are participating in this year's Taste, and include the following: Golden Panda, Dairy Queen of Antioch, Antioch Pizza, Grande Jakes, That Pasta Place, Tom & Mike's, Big Apple Bagels, Marcomb's Steak House, Moose Lodge and Roman Coin Pizza.

Everything, including multiple daily musical performances will be held on Toft St. This way eaters, shoppers and carnival goers won't have to miss a beat of the music.

OUR TOWN

The carnival runs daily from 5-10 p.m. on Thursday, from 1-11 p.m. on Friday, from noon-11 p.m. on Saturday and from noon-7 p.m. on Sunday.

The sidewalk sale also takes place daily from 9 a.m.-8 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, from 9 a.m.-6 p.m. on Saturday and from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. on Sunday. Bingo will be played from 2-4 p.m. on both Thursday and Friday.

There are three categories for the soap box derby: child for those 5-9 years old, youth for those 10-15 years old and adult for those 16 years old or more. The race will be held on July 21 at 3 p.m. heading east on Orchard St. from Main St. Raffle drawings will be held for both the Antioch Rotary Club on Sunday and the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry on Saturday night. The Chamber is selling only 260 tickets at $100 each with a first prize of $10,000 and five second-place prizes of $200. The Rotary is selling 1,000 tickets at $20 each for a Yamaha XLT 1200 Waverunner.

The overall sponsor of this fourday event is Raymond Chevrolet along with Waste Management, State Bank of The Lakes, Advertiser Network, Coca-Cola, Miller, First National Bank-Employee Owned, the Village of Antioch, Country Pontiac, Millennium Signs, Impressions Count, A-Z Rental and Lakeland Media.

Nine-year-old Antioch resident Sarah Brown won Kohl's Kids Who Care scholarship program at the store level receiving a $50 Kohl's gift card and will be considered for postsecondary education scholarships at the regional and national level.

Kohl's Department stores selected area youth from nominations submitted to local stores to be recognized for their volunteer efforts.

Sarah's mother Nancy nominated her daughter for the award. "Sarah has been a volunteer at St. Peter's Food Pantry for about one and one-half years," she said. "We do this together as a family once a week on Tuesday nights."

Her mother said Sarah is home schooled and enjoys playing the piano, working on the computer, track and field and reading. Sarah belongs to the St. Peter parish. "She's really a wonderful girl," said Nancy. "I'm proud of the work she does."

"The impact of the volunteer work on these outstanding young people is incredible and they each deserve to be recognized and rewarded for their efforts," said Julie Gardner, senior vice president of marketing for Kohl's. "That's why we are pleased to be able to acknowledge their outstanding work."

A total of 65 regional winners of $1,000 scholarships will be announced later this month. National finalists will be announced in August and will each receive a $5,000 scholar-here is nothing worse to face over the long summer months than the two weeks your child's best friend goes on vacation with his or her family. It doesn't matter that the Game-Boy has fresh batteries; that the latest Nintendo games sit on the bookshelf in the family room, and the newest computer games are loaded and waiting to be mastered. It makes no difference that the pass to Great America has been used so many times, the picture is worn off, and every new movie released so far this summer has been viewed. The pool water is sparkling, warm, and inviting, but not a ripple breaks the surface.

Youth rewarded for volunteerism | The two longest weeks of summer

Scooters, bikes and skateboards lay abandoned in the driveway. Every toy imaginable is within reach, as well as a full-fledged playground, with a trampoline, that sits waiting for some action. Yet the she paces through the house, from room to room, plopping on the sofa, dropping like a lead weight in a chair, exhaling loudly. Her face is long, the mood is blue, her attitude would rival a teenager. Nothing seems fun anymore, nothing holds her interest, nothing is the same and she claims "there is nothing to do."

It doesn't matter what items she has at her disposal, what road she might choose to travel down, or what sporting equipment lies within the confines of the garage-without your best bud, the days seem endless. There is nobody to catch frogs with, talk silly with, play Barbie with. Popsicles just don't taste as good. The child looks and acts as forlorn as somebody who has just lost her best friend.

She will stare at the calendar with glazed eyes and count the remaining days left until her pal will return, and wonder what she is supposed to do with all this free time? Why is it when you are on vacation, the days seem to fly by at such a rapid pace, yet when you're the one stuck home, time seems to stand still?

As parents we dance on our heads and turn over flip-flops trying to amuse the unamused child. We offer trips to the ice cream parlor or campouts in the backyard, all of which are grand ideas, but would be even grander with their buddy. The glum mood permeates the entire household, and its amazing that even you, the parent feel the life being sucked out of you and start moping around, shuffling your feet and sighing heavily-will these two weeks ever end?

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Thank you

I know I speak for many when I say a heartfelt "thank you" to the trustees for voting to deny the Neumann Homes development. It took much courage to make this decision in light of all of the threatened lawsuits.

I would like to add a "job well done" to the hard workers who kept everybody aware of the meetings.

And how about the hundreds of concerned citizens who turned out for every meeting. Wow.

I'm glad I live in Antioch and belong to such a great groups of people.

Police saw a vehicle speeding at 44 mph in a posted 30-mph zone with only one headlight illuminated as it traveled northbound on Rte. 83. Watson provided the officer with a Washington state driver's license. The officer noticed the front windshield was cracked.

Watson's identifiers were checked through LEADS/NCIC/SOS and came back with him having no valid driver's license. He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures and issued citations for no valid driver's license, speeding, defective windshield and only one headlight.

Watson was released on personal recognizance pending his Aug. 22 court date.

Alfonso V. Morales, 49, of 1509 Cherokee in Round Lake Beach, was arrested for driving with no valid driver's license on July 11 at 12:36 a.m. on Rte. 83 at Park Terrace.

Police logged his vehicle traveling 47 mph in a posted 30-mph zone. Morales gave police a valid insurance card, but said he did not have a driver's license. His identifiers were checked through LEADS/NCIC coming back with no record on file.

Morales was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was but through booking procedures and issued citations for speeding and no driver's license. He was released on personal recognizance pending his Aug. 26 court date.

Suspended license

Christopher A. Broz, 30, of 1016 Osmond in Antioch, was arrested for driving while suspended on July 11 at 1:08 a.m. on westbound Nabor at Osmond.

His vehicle was stopped for having only one headlamp illuminated. Broz provided a driver's license but said his insurance had expired some time ago. Broz's identifiers were checked through LEADS/NCIC/SOS coming back with information that his driver's license was suspended.

Broz was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures and issued citations for improper lighting-only one headlamp, operating an uninsured vehicle and driving while suspended. He was released on personal recognizance.

Alcohol linked to fatal accident

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

Authorities confirmed that three young men from Lake County had been drinking when their car, traveling well in excess of the 45-mph speed limit, hit a tree on May 27 in Salem, Wis., killing all three teens.

At the time, Sgt. John Schwarz of the Kenosha County Sheriff's Dept. said, "There were broken beer bottles in the area, and there was a cooler with broken beer bottles inside."

Toxicology tests performed by the Kenosha County medical examiner's office... signed to look for other illegal substances revealed that the vehicle's driver Matthew Elliott, 19, of Mundelein, had a blood alcohol concentration of .217. Passenger Douglas

- معيد-نايات المنطق موامع

Sparks, 19, of Antioch, had a blood alcohol concentration of .125, and Alex Britt, 19, of Mundèlein, had a blood alcohol concentration of .06.

Schwarz said half of the car went another 45 feet after the impact of hitting the tree. "It's safe to say they were really moving," he said. All three were reportedly killed instantly from the multiple injuries they suffered.

The legal limit in both Illinois and Wisconsin is .08 blood alcohol concentration, and the legal drinking age in both states is 21 years old.

Additional toxicology test results dewon't be back to the medical examiner's office until sometime in September, according to officials.

Get physical!

revention of injuries is key. And with the fall sports season upon us, that prevention starts with a good

"So many things are missed with giving physicals," said Larry Scire, Director of Sports Medicine at Condell Medical Center in Libertyville. "The lowest priced physical is not necessary valuable to the athlete. The more comprehensive the physical, the more potential risks are discovered."

With the I.H.S.A. rules requiring all athletes and cheerleaders to be cleared every year with a sports physical, why not do it right!

Condell is ready to assist.

It has set two dates for providing sports physicals for area high school athletes: Aug. 4 from 12 noon-5 p.m. at Vernon Hills High School; and Aug. 28 from 12-5 p.m. at Grayslake High.

Appointments are taken on a first-come, first-serve basis with the cost being $35.

According to Scire, "We have doctors from the Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago's sports medicine division coming in to help give the physicals."

Under the direction of Dr. Joel Press, the physicals will specialize in spine sports and occupational rehabilitation.

"Our physicals are given in stages - blood pressure, weight and height," added Scire. "We also focus on musculo-skeletal aspects, joint stability, cardiovascular and respritory. We also provide foot exams, which are one of the biggest issues in an athlete and the most often overlooked."

Condell's physicals also include checking for scoleosis because high school athletes are growing and their spine is most likely to curve.

"One leg might be longer than the other, which might lead to problems," said Scire. "We take a lot of pride in giving a thorough and comprehensive physical."

Parents of the athlete do not have to be present but the IHSA requires the guardian's signature on the form, which is provided by Condell, to be signed before the athlete turns it in to their respective school.

The Boys & Girls Club of Lake County is sponsoring the World's First Trirollathon scheduled to take place Sat., July 21 beginning at 7:30 a.m. at the Illinois Beach State Park in Zion. The Trirollathon will include two events: a 50K for bikes on roads, paths and forest preserves throughout beautiful Lake County; and, a 5K event, which includes a 2K bike tour followed by a 1.5K in-lineskate route which concludes with a 1.5K on your favorite scooter.

Interested participants can register by checking out the website at www.signmeup: sports.com, by downloading forms from the website www.bgclc.com or the morning of the event. Please call Dr. Jon Bayer at 735-0615 or the club at 249-4878 for further information.

Area high school football players Matt Van Daele of Warren, Marc Sears of Libertyville and Arontes Smith of Zion will be competing for the West team in the 27th Annual Illinois High School Football All-Star game held July 28 at 6:30 p.m. at Peoria Stadium in Peoria. Each player must have graduated from an IHSA school in the spring prior to the game and must be nominated by his coach. A total of 88 players will be featured.

Mike Small will be running his annual basketball camps at Woodland Middle School in Gurnee during the week of July 23-27. The camp is for boys and girls grades 1-8. For information or to sign up, please call 635-8437 or visit the web site at www.mikesmall.com.

Good time, results at Hastings swim meet

By JOE PRUSKI Lakeland Correspondent

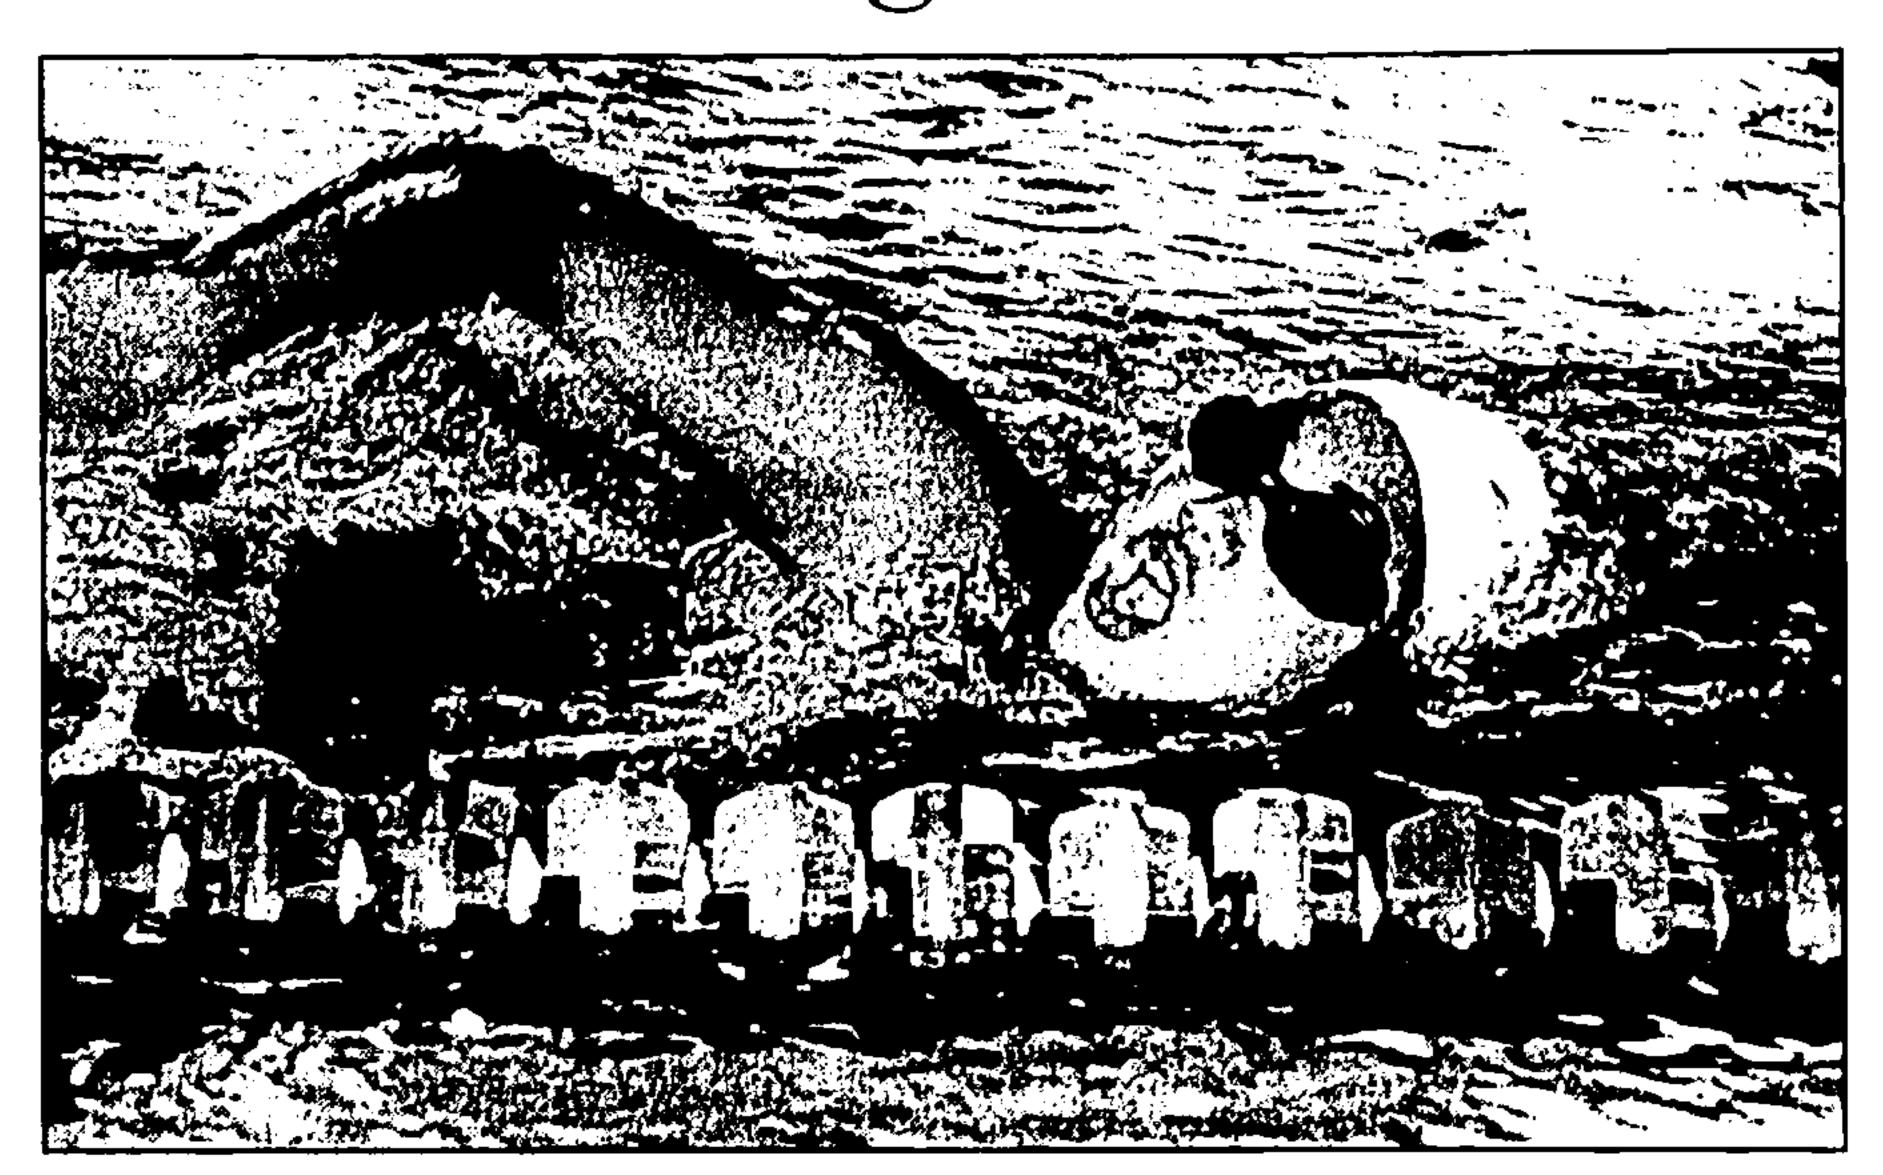

The Hastings Lake YMCA hosted the Stingrays BBQ Invitational swim meet on July 14 in Lake Villa with competitors ranging in age from 6-18 years.

The all-day event consisted of seven swim teams from the state and nearly 300 swimmers. Of the seven teams competing in the invitational, area teams fared the best with the Sting Rays of Lake Villa capturing first-place honors after scoring 1420.5 points. The Waves of Antioch finished second.

Twelve individual swimmers from the Stingrays in six different age groups placed in the top three in their events. The group included: Tony Diaz, John Garland, Ricky Diaz, Andrew Park, Joseph Burg, Matt Revell, and Nick Johnson for the boys. The girls were led by Georgina Meyer, Haley Simpson, Michelle Garland, Anne Mattingly and Emily Meyer.

Meanwhile, Antioch Waves members who finished in the top-3 in their respective events included: Brett Prather, Joey Schultze, Andrew Lorenzini, John Ferris and Taylor Pechauer for the boys. For the girls, placewinners included: Dominique Bessette, Emma Howard, Yasmine Bessette, Kandi Kratz and Chelsea Dickson.

Aside from the competition at the pool, other festivities followed making the day an all-around success for the competitors as well as the community.

The Sting Ray swim team also donated $500 to the YMCA, which was accepted by executive director Jim Scherer.

Other teams competing included the Lake County Family YMCA, Leaning Tower YMCA, Neptune Swim Team, Irving Park Iguanorcas and the Lincolnwood Lightning Swim Team.

"It was an excellent meet. The kids put forth their best efforts," said Linda Meyer, Treasurer for the Stingrays and runner for the "Overall, the day was a huge success. The meet was run very well and everyone enjoyed themselves. It was a fun day."

Sequoit summer baseball advances; holds off LHS

By JOE PRUSKI

Lakeland Correspondent

Two familiar foes in Libertyville and Antioch faced off July 18 in the IHSA summer baseball Carmel regional.

It was Antioch that put its bats to work, finishing with three runs on eight hits en route to a 3-2 victory.

Antioch faced third-seeded Mundelein July 18 with a trip to the finals on the line.

The Sequoits shutout the Cats for five innings until pitcher Shawn Schuler was touched by Phil Marchinski's two-out double to help revive the struggling Cats. Then, a routine groundball to Sequoit shortstop Anthony Gorzelnik proved disastrous as his throw in the dirt skipped past first baseman Chris Malec, scoring Marchinski from second and advancing Chris Anest to second.

With two outs and Anest on second base, an almost identically hit groundball to the shortstop by Chris Mulligan ended in the same result with another poorly thrown ball to first base, scoring Anest from second and bring Libertyville to within one. But Schuler struck out the next Wildcat batter to end the inning.

After going scoreless in the seventh, the Sequoits needed one more out in the bottom of the frame to secure a spot in the regional semifinal and bump Libertyville out of the summer league tourney.

Fittingly, the last out came in the form of a groundball to Gorzelnik, who avenged his earlier miscues with a textbook throw to first base to end the game.

"We didn't hit the ball very well," said Wildcat head coach Jim Panther. "(Schuler) did a pretty good job of changing speeds."

For the game, Shuler allowed only five hits while giving up no earned runs.

"He definitely pitched well," said Sequoit head coach Paul Petty.

The Sequoits No. 1 and 2 pitchers have given up a combined one run in the regional through two games. Malec surrendered only one run in five innings of work in the Sequoits 4-1 victory over Prairie Ridge in first-round action July 16.

With summer baseball over for Libertyville, coach Panther is hoping that off-season conditioning will help his club come back stronger in the spring.

"We need to get stronger," Panther commented. "The dedicated kids will work hard to gain strength to be better ballplayers."

The Sequoits currently sport a 15-6 mark in summer league play while the Wildcats finished at 17-8-1.

Carmel High, under the direction of Varsity Boys Basketball Coach Joe Molloy, will also be conducting two skills and fundamental vamps for boys. Both one-week camps begin on Monday, July 23 and run through Friday, July 27. Camp 1, for boys in grades five and six is scheduled for 10 a.m.-noon. Camp 2, for boys in grades seven and eight is scheduled from noon-2 p.m. The cost is $80 per player.

Registration can be taken over the phone by calling Coach Molloy at 566-3000, ext 426 or via e-mail at Jmoiloy@carmelhs.org.

Registration may also be completed in the school gym on July 23.

Weiler claims county crown

By JOHN PHELPS Sports Editor

The good thing about golf is that you always have a chance to redeem yourself after a bad hole.

Just ask Wadsworth's Beth Weiler.

After a triple-bogey six on the par-3 third hole at Bonnie Brook Golf Course, Weiler carded two birdies on the front nine and wound up holding off two-time champ DeAnne Stolarik in capturing the title in the championship flight of the 30th annual Lake County Women's Amatuer tournament.

"I knew I'd play well because this is my home course but I'm very suprised. There are a lot of big hitters out here," said Weiler, whose winning round of 76 was her second-best score ever at the Waukegan course. "I finished second two years ago. I haven't played too much tournament golf this summer. I had some butterflies when we started."

Weiler, who finished with a 38-38, held off Stolarik, who carded a 77.

"There was a little bit of wind out there today," said Stolarik, who also makes Bonnie Brook her home track. "But I thought through it. I had a couple of silly mistakes but overall was happy with my round. I putted consis-

Mary Ann McCormick of Lake Bluff finished third with a 87, followed by a trio of players tied for fourth at 80: Hye Lee of Chevy Chase, Deerpath's Kim Shettel, and Illinois State University-bound Jill Franz of Waukegan, who finished third in the IHSA girls state tournament last fall.

In the first flight, the low gross winner was Kelly Sine of Bonnie Brook with an 83. Taking third for low net was Brae Loche's Judy Bonat. Brae Loche's Pat Hibbs finished first low net with a 68 in the third flight. Hibbs also won lowest putts (29) in her flight while Jane Nam, also of Brae Loche, won longest drive in the championship flight. Lisa Bishoff of Countryside in Mundelein won closest to the pin the second flight while Katherine Fehrenbacher of Renwood in Round Lake shot a low net 68 to finish second in the third flight.

The Antioch Fire Dept. is hoping to increase its membership from the current 67 members to about 125 members. Plans are in the works to build a third fire station in the vicinity of Grass Lake Rd. and Rte. 59.

"We hope to have new members in and trained so that we will have people ready to man the station when construction is complete," said Chris Lienhardt, the department's information officer. If the weather cooperates and all else runs smoothly, construction should begin in the fall of this year with a target completion date of about one year from

The department has recruited about 20 new members since its drive began. "Another 20 would be great," said Lienhardt. Applicants must be 18 years old, be a high school graduate or have a GED equivalency and be upstanding members of the community. Applicants go through a screening process that involves a background check before being accepted by the department. Additionally, applicants must live within Antioch Township.

Department Capt. Jeff Vandevoorde said, "It's really a great opportunity. All of the necessary training costs are covered by the department." He added that regular college costs might be reimbursed as long as the study is related to work at the fire department.

Women are welcome to join the department.

"An ability test is given to make sure applicants are able to function and do the job," said Vandevoorde. "If you're in reasonable shape it's not too hard."

Both Vandevoorde and Lienhardt stressed that the job is rewarding but that it does require a good deal of commitment, particularly in the first year while the necessary training is being completed.

"There are certain benchmarks at which point we can send new members out to do certain things," said Lienhardt. "It's intensive for the first year."

On average, the department receives 1.8 calls per day. "Unfortunately, the calls don't come in like that," said Vandevoorde. "Some days there are no calls, and other days there are five calls."

"We want to start recruiting now so that we will be able to keep all of our shifts covered," said Lienhardt. "People don't work nine-to-five jobs anymore, and that makes it a little more challenging."

Calls have steadily increased from 337 calls in 1990 to 690 calls in 2000. "We're trying to stay ahead of the curve," said Lien-

Anyone interested in becoming a member of the fire department should pick up an application at the main fire station located on Holbek Dr. Further instructions will be given at that time. Prospective applicants with questions are encouraged to call either Vandevoorde or Lienhardt at 395-5511.

Love, Chan stand out at Quad States Open

By ROB BACKUS Staff Reporter

A record 29 members of the Warren Tennis Camp made the trip to Moline to compete in the Quad States Junior Open USTA Tournament. Several players captured trophies in the program's best ever showing in that tournament.

Watch out, Tiger!

Antioch's Abbie Horan, 8, competed in the U.S. Kids World Golf Championships Qualifying event held at Klein Creek Golf Club in Winfield. Horan, who competed in the girls 8-and-under division, finished second and narrowly missed the cut after firing a 55 for 9 holes. The U.S. Kids World Golf Championships will be held in Jekyll Island, Georgia later this summer.—Submitted photo

"The tournament was great," said camp instructor and Warren head tennis coach Greg Cohen. "I was happy that the kids played hard and played well. They were very representative of what we like to accomplish."

Gurnee's Teri Chan, a junior at Warren, won the 16-and-under girls title with a 4-0 overall record. In winning the title, Chan avenged two earlier losses to top-ranked Brooke Fiala from Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

"I lost to her (Fiala) last year," said Chan. "But this year I'm a completely different players. I knew I had a good chance."

Chan also went through the entire draw without dropping a single set.

"I didn't realize that I didn't drop a set until after the tournament," said Chan. "Normally I just look at whether or not I play well. But not losing a set will give me a confidence boost later on. I know that when I'm on a hot streak it doesn't stop."

Chan also combined efforts with Warren sophomore Christine Matus to take second in the girls 18-and-under doubles.

But Chan wasn't the only Warren camp member to have an outstanding tournament.

Antioch graduate Jason Love took the boys 18-and-under title. Love also won four matches without losing a set, three of which came against Moline state qualifiers in 2001. He also teamed up with Mark Nelson to reach the Karina Kocemba, a seventh grader at Woodland Middle School, took second place in the girls 12-and-under singles after losing in a third-set tie-breaker in the finals. She also teamed with Antioch freshman Ashley Jensen to win the consolation title at girls 14-and-under doubles.

Matus won the final trophy for the club by taking the consolation title at girls 16-and-under singles. Many other camp member also had strong showings.

Warren juniors Joe Doreza and Bill Baluyot each made the quarterfinals in the boys 16and-under singles and the semifinals at boys 16-and-under doubles.

David Martinez won matches at both singles and doubles before losing to top-ranked players.

Other camp member to win matches were: Ashley Bennett, Kevin Chan, Katy Clarke, Brian Early, Stephanie Fox, Jeremy Green, Matt Heinz, Alan Johnson, Bryan Johnson, Brandon Miller, Patrick O'Connor, Dan Otterson, Kanika Rustagi and Nathan Schramm.

The camp will travel to Dubuque, Iowa to play in an event starting July 20 and to Springfield on August 4.

Lionheart Martial Arts students earn Black Belts

Lionheart Martial Arts Inc. in Antioch hosted its second TaeKwon Do Black Belt Promotion Test at their dojang (school) located at 921 Toft Ave., Antioch. Shelly Barbi, 18, was promoted to 1st Dan Black Belt and Eric Geyer, 19, received his Provisional Black Belt. Both martial artists reside in Antioch and have been studying with Mr. Kemmerer (3rd Dan) for over three years.

In the martial arts, promotion to Black Belt is a major event. It means a student has chosen to alter his or her lifestyle, which requires extreme effort and dedication in sticking to a weekly schedule of lessons, physical conditioning and personal self-development.

Approximately 1-in-10,000 students ever make it to Black Belt. Shelly and Eric proved they were worthy of their rank promotion through a rigorous, intense physical and emotional testing of their martial arts knowledge in a private session for over four hours earlier that day. "Though it was tough, they did an outstanding job," said Instructor Chris Kemmerer.

With exhibiting their self defense they also demonstrated poomse (forms) and sparring with several opponents, they were required to their level of endurance. Neither Shelly nor Eric gave up or wanted to quit during the grueling event. They continued to display extraordinary showmanship and stamina during the entire ordeal.

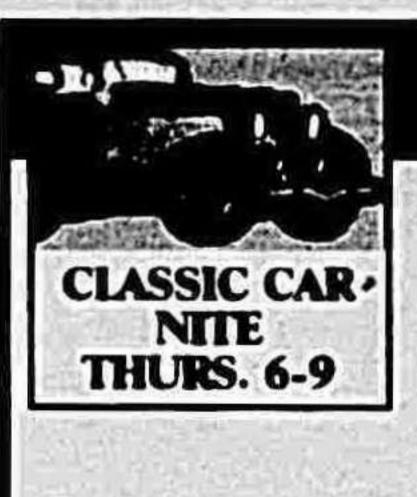

"I am very proud of the strength and precision of their techniques displayed, physical endurance, personal growth in character and confidence they have developed through the years, as well as their increased respect for the martial arts, their families, academics and the community," Instructor Kemmerer remarked.

Other students that tested for rank promotion that afternoon at a public ceremony included: "Li'l' Dragons Sabrina Gonzalez, age 7, of Trevor, Wis.; Ryan Nowotarski, 6, of Bristol, Wis.; Max Carey, 5, of Wonder Lake; and, Keegan Ronan, 3 1/2, Dale Trusky, 4, Zachary Reily, 5, Caleb Hunter, 3, Vincent Lascola, 6, all residents of Antioch.

Earning their rank in Junior and Adult TaeKwon Do included: Antioch residents Trish Ronan, 45, Tim Gersch, 12, Carl Burgeson, 16, Damion Yocum, 9, Joseph Latorre, 8, and Max Quinnett, 10. Joining them was Danielle McClelland, 30, of Gurnee, Dan O'Connell, 19, of Lindenhurst, and Sarah Nowotarski, 8, and David Von Gunten, 13, both of Bristol, Wis.

Story by HELEN MANSFIELD Staff Reporter • Photos by CANDACE H. JOHNSON

Ridin' along in my automobile, my baby beside me at the wheel. I stole a kiss at the turn of a mile, my curiosity runnin' wild. Crusin' and playin' the radio, with no particular place to go.

-Chuck Berry, "No particular place to go."

ack in its day, Dog'n Suds was one of the most popular restaurant chains in the Chicagoland area. All but gone, the 60s era drive-in has two remaining locations in Lake County, one in Grayslake and one in Ingleside.

For the past 10 years the Ingleside location has come alive every Saturday night with the throbbing, booming sounds of old car engines, lovingly cared for and pampered by their owners.

Owners and operators Roy and Sherrill Miller have been hosting classic car night on Saturdays for the past 10 years. "We provide the property for them, they come in and talk

Opened in 1967 by Miller's parents Jerry and Evelyn, Roy admits his business is not "on the beaten path" in Ingleside, but on Saturday nights around 100 pre-1973 cars find their way to Dog'n Suds.

"It's become a real destination for the owners and the public," Miller said. "They really seem to like it."

On the first Saturday of this summer season, Miller estimated nearly 200 cars were cruising around the block, trying to get into his parking lot.

Even though Miller doesn't own an old roadster himself, he also enjoys the car atmosphere.

"We try to make them feel safe and comfortable which makes them feel good and us too," he said.

Miller has seen cars come in from the southside of Chicago, Rockford, Milwaukee and Beloit.

He has seen all kinds of cars, makes, models and years, some purely original, some restored and some custom designed. All unique.

Miller is hard pressed to remember a favorite, but he does recall one old car that was equipped with hydraulics.

"It would go up and down and it looked like it was dancing," Miller said laughing.

Dog 'n Suds at one time had locations in Mundelein, Wauconda, Lake Zurich and Richmond.

Converted into new businesses, the old drive-inns are still pretty easy to identify.

irls face different challenges than boys, and have different needs; yet most programs designed for children and teens do not take gender differences into consideration, according to Girl's Best Friend Foundation (GBF). GBF is offering more than $450,000 in grants for new and ongoing girl-centered programs with the goal of supporting girls and young women in Illinois.

GBF is one of the only foundations in the nation, and the only one of its kind in Illinois, focusing exclusively on girls' issues. Started in 1994, GBF has made grants totaling more than $1.4 million to positive programs for girls and young women ages 5-18 that encourage girls to see themselves as smart, skilled and capable.

GIRL'S

Any nonprofit group or organization that is creating or would like to create new opportunities for girls and young women may be eligible for funding. Letters of intent to apply for funding must be submitted by Monday, Aug. 6.

Specific funding guidelines are available by contacting GBF at (312) 266-2842 or the GBF web site at www.girlsbestfriend.org.

Journey to Mars at children's museum

While NASA marvels at the prospect of life on other planets, a new exhibit at Chicago Children's Museum allows children to imagine, design and create the colonization of Earth's closest planet—nearly 30 million miles away. "Journey to the Red Planet" challenges youth to envision and design a permanent colony on Mars in 2030. This special exhibit opens on July 16 and runs through Oct. 1.

The exhibits at Chicago Children's Museum are designed to provide children with opportunities to learn, explore, think, face challenges and develop new understandings of the world around them. The Museum's displays are age-appropriate, exciting and interactive and range from sensory activities for toddlers to interdisciplinary exhibits that focus on the humanities, sciences and arts. All exhibits encourage a high level of caregiver involvement and participation.

Tour raises funds for land, water conservation ater gardens of more than 170 Chicago area homeowners will be on display to visitors during the ninth annual Parade of Ponds, Saturday, July 21, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday, July 22, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Widely regarded as the world's largest water garden tour, The Parade of Ponds, sponsored by Batavia-based Aquascape Designs, Inc., benefits The Conservation Foundation and The Illinois Nature Conservancy.

Last year, the Parade of Ponds raised $20,000 to support these organizations. This year's goal is set at $25,000.

The Parade of Ponds features an extensive variety of water gardens throughout the Chicago area, including the far north, west and south suburbs. Participants can visit large, intricately landscaped ponds with waterfalls, streams and ornamental bogs, as well as smaller ponds designed specifically to enhance homes with less outdoor space.

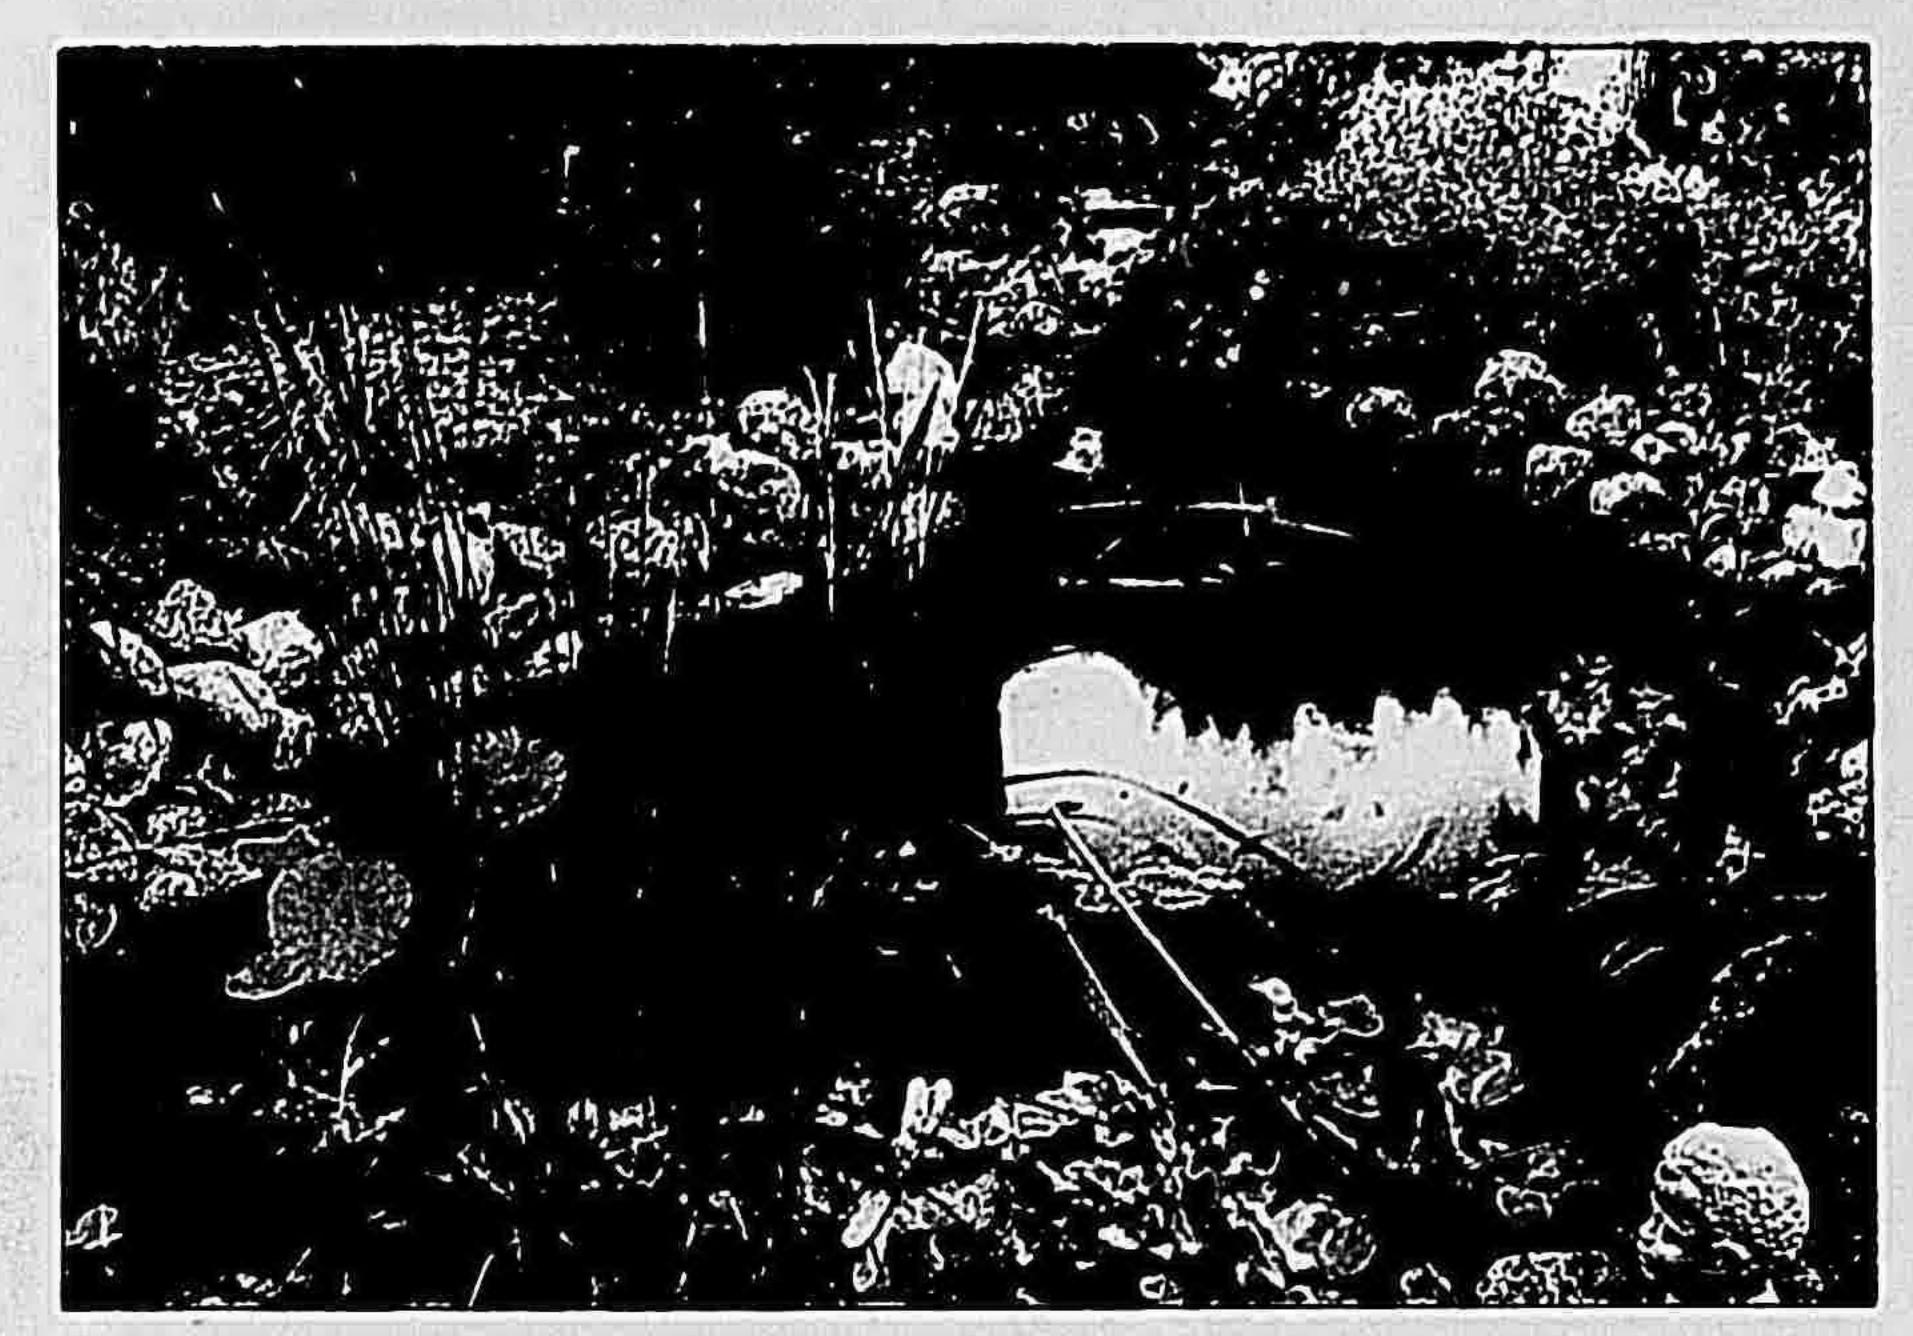

In addition, Aquascape Designs sponsors an annual Parade of Ponds photo contest with $15,000 in cash prizes to be awarded to winners in five different categories. Both amateur and professional photographers may enter the contest.

Parade of Pond tickets are $15 and include a brochure containing pond descriptions, locations, directions and guidelines for the photo contest. They can be used for both days of the tour. All ticket proceeds are given to the Illinois Nature Conservancy and The Conservation Foundation. Tickets can be ordered by calling (630) 326-2400. Children 12 and under are admitted free.

"The idea behind starting this Parade of Ponds was to expose people to the beauty and lifestyle of water gardening," Greg Wittstock, founder and CEO of Aquascape designs, said. "Clearly, that idea has struck a chord because in the past eight years this event has blossomed into the world's largest water gardening tour."

The Conservation Foundation is a non-profit land trust and conservation organization in Naperville working to preserve natural lands and waterways. The Chicago-based Illinois Nature Conservancy administers statewide programs to preserve plants, animals and natural communities by protecting the lands and waters they need to survive.

The ninth annual Parade of Ponds tour will be held on Saturday, July 21 and Sunday, July 22 throughout the Chicagoland area. Call (630) 326-2400 for tickets.

'Final Fantasy' leaves a lasting impression

inal Fantasy: The Spirits Within" is not just a movie for those who follow the video game series, but is a well developed, action packed, computer generated movie that takes movie-goers into a world of fantasy that quickly becomes reality.

Not only will the computergenerated images (CGI) amaze and boggle the mind with their almost perfect rendition, but their lifelike images will make you forget that no part of the movie was shot outside of a computer.

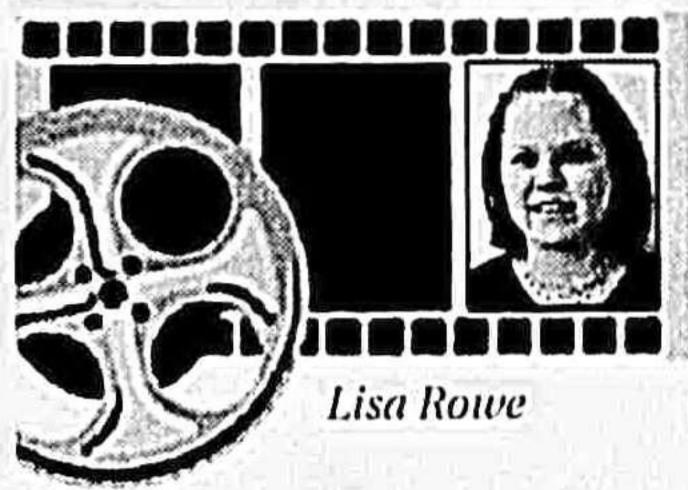

When first viewing the opening sequences of the movie, pay close attention to the facial details of the main characters, as well as their surroundings. Seems real, doesn't it?

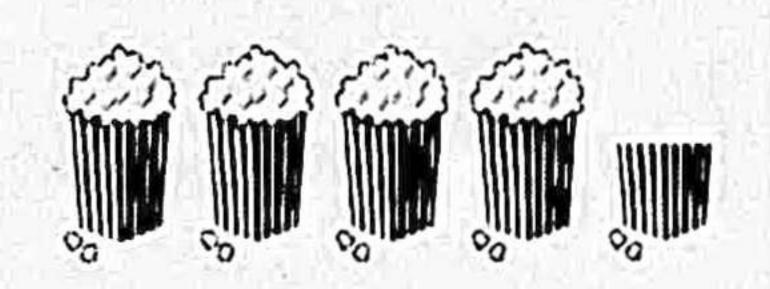

We meet Dr. Aki Ross, voice of Ming-Na, who is searching for life forces, known as "spirits," on Earth in the year 2065. At this time the planet has almost been completely decimated by creatures called phantoms, which arrived on Earth from an asteroid that landed in the Caspian Mountains over 30 years prior.

Ross, with the help of her mentor Dr. Sid, voiced by Donald Sutherland, sets out to collect the remaining two of the eight spirits. Ross and Sid believe that once all eight spirits are collected, the alien forces can be counteracted in a less destructive way.

They are working against General Hein, voiced by James Woods, who does not believe in the spirits, but believes that the aliens can be destroyed by a powerful space laser called the Zeus Cannon.

With the help of Captain Gray Edwards, voiced by Alec Baldwin, and his team of ragtag soldiers who are assigned to protect Ross on her quest to find the two remaining spirits, Ross continues her search all over the planet to locate the life sources containing the special spirits.

It is a race to collect the final spirits to save the planet from the destructiveness of Hein and the phantoms roaming the planet, but to also save Ross, who is infected with the phantom virus.

The phantom virus infecting Ross also helps her to shed light on where the phantoms came from and why they are on Earth. She comes to the realization that the phantoms are not physical beings, but rather ghosts who are lost and confused, explaining why they cannot be seen without special devices.

The movie, loosely based off the popular Final Fantasy series created by Squaresoft, was written and directed by Hironobu Sakaguchi. Although the movie does sport the Final Fantasy name in its title, be forewarned that it does not follow any plot like the video games, but does hold unique characters and an action-packed plot of its own.

There is always something going on in the movie, so be sure not to miss it! For a well-developed plot and characters, not to mention all the computer-generated images, this movie receives fourand-a-half popcorn boxes. Be sure to check out this smash hit at a theater near you!

Dr. Aki Ross, voiced by Ming-Na, of "ER" fame, surveys the terrain of Earth in the year 2065 in the lifelike, computer-generated film, "Final Fantasy."

'Uncle Vanya' shines in new translation

The "Uncle Vanya" that has just opened at the Steppenwolf Studio Theater in Chicago is a polished new translation by Curt Columbus. Still, Anton Chekhov's classic romantic comedy retains its simple but often poetic language. The new version, if anything, underscores the play's many delightful scenes. The Russian countryside setting is effectively suggested by the forest glen backdrop on all four walls of the theater. The serenity of the Serebryakov estate, however, is disrupted. The absentee owner, an art professor who has recently retired, has descended with his young, second wife. Robert Breuler, as Serebryakov—aged, ailing and generally cantankerous—has thrown off everyone's schedule as they wait on him hand and foot. Vanya, his long-suffering brother-in-law who has overseen operation of the estate for years, worries—with good reason—that everything he worked for is at risk.

Vanya, at 47, feels overwhelmed by a mid-life crisis; namely that his life has not amounted to much and the future promises more of the same.

Yelena, charmingly played by Sally Murphy, is the young bride who finds herself bored to tears—yet unwilling to walk away from her situation. Complications arise when she finds herself the object of attention by both Vanya and the Astrov, Jeff Perry in an excellent portrayal, a country doctor, free thinker and family friend. Astrov has focused on the stunning but unattainable Yelena while turning a blind eye to the plain but eager-and-willing advances of Sonja, Yelena's young stepdaughter. In the opening performance, understudy Heather Anne Prete ably stepped in for ailing Monica Payne.

Rondi Reed plays the steadfast Nanny.

"Uncle Vanya" ponders some heady issues, but it does so with intelligence and a touch of humor. The play, directed by Sheldon Patinkin, runs through July 29; ticket information is available at (312) 335-1650.—By Tom Witom

HOROSCOPE

Aries - March 21/April 20 You're on the go early in the week. Not only do you have a lot of things to do, but others need your help too. Do all that you can to get things done. You'll be rewarded with a relaxing weekend. An old friend calls you for advice. Don't be surprised by the call; just try to help.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

A family problem takes up most of your time this week. This is important, so rearrange your plans and help your loved ones out as much as you can. Your efforts will be appreciated. The person you've been dating wants to step up the relationship. Is this really what you want? Think before saying yes.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

You're very moody this week, Gemini. One minute, you're happy; the next minute, you're angry. Try to relax, and turn to your loved onesfor help. They are always there for you. A close friend wants your input on a business idea. Be honest, and don't get involved if you don't believe it can work. Cancer plays a key role.

ift,

Things go well for you throughout the week. You impress your superiors at work, and that special someone finally says yes. Enjoy yourself. A close friend has a problem and needs your help. Be supportive. Help him or her as much as you can — even if it means canceling plans. He or she always has been there for you.

Leo - July 23/August 23

You make great strides at work when you come up with an idea that saves the company money. Your efforts will be rewarded. A loved one brings you into a family disagreement. Keep quiet you don't want to get involved. Scorpio and Pisces play important roles early in the week.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

You take control when a personal problem overwhelms everyone else involved. Be strong, and do what you think is best for everyone. However, don't let your power go to your head. You run into an old flame over the weekend. Don't be bitter. Leo plays a key role later in the week.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

You need to think fast on your feet when a family member gets into trouble. Do what you can to help, but don't get in over your head. That special someone needs to see you at the end of the week. Don't get nervous; everything will work out for the best. He or she just wants to talk to you.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

It's a hectic week for you when it comes to business dealings. You have a lot of plans to make, because a great opportunity is knocking on your door. Don't let it slip away. A loved one needs your advice. You have to tell him or her the truth even though it is going to be difficult.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

While you've been putting it off for a long time, you have to make an important personal decision. Think about what you really want and how getting it will affect your future, then decide. If you need advice, turn to your loved ones. They are there to help you. Capricorn plays a key role.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

You feel rushed early in the week as you try to finish an important project. However, after it is done, you are free to do as you please. Splurge on yourself; you deserve it. Go out with friends you haven't seen in a long time. A loved one has something to tell you. Don't worry — it's not bad news.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

A close friend asks to borrow money from you. Even though you may want to say yes, think about how quickly you'll be paid back. You're going to need a lot of money soon. A family member invites you to dinner. Enjoy yourself; it's going to be a good time. Virgo plays a key role on Wednesday.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

You feel like you're going crazy this week. Everyone is either asking you a question or giving you work to do. Don't get angry. Instead, spend some time alone to collect your thoughts. This will calm you down and get you ready to face the world again. That special someone has a surprise for you.

Development heralds a new era for Rte. 12 corridor

Deer Park Town Center is being heralded as the beginning of a new era of upscale commercial development in the Rte. 12 corridor of west Lake County.

Originally known as the favorite pathway of Chicagoans to the chain O' Lakes and resort areas of southern Wisconsin, Rte. 12 later became the home of strip malls and easy-access highway shops in Lake Zurich and Wauconda.

Developers of Deer Park Town Center say a new trend is saying "goodbye" to hum-drum, gray roadsides, neon lights and drab store fronts.

Another change in the Rte. 12 corridor is emerging commercial development in the Village of Volo and the relocation of major Fox Lake retailing to the intersection at Big Hollow

An upscale Jewel-Osco Center soon will have competition from Dominick's at a retail sector drawing customers from McHenry and the Spring Grove-Richmond area.

The trend started when the Deer Park Town Center opened its doors last October with a variety of upscale shops like Williams Sonoma, Pottery Barn and Barnes & Noble, and an openair community Area landscaped by Countryside Industries, of Wauconda.

Not only is the new Town Center a visually appealing shopping district, but its central gazebo and lawn area is a community hub where families gather for concerts, dance performances, children's programs and live entertainment on Friday nights during the summer.

The aesthetically pleasing landscaping Countryside Industries provided for the Town Center was instrumental in starting a trend to bring a new look to the Highway 12 corridor.

Large, hardy, native tree, shrub and perennial varieties, including native oaks, black alder, flowering crab, red sunset maple, Colorado spruce, Austrian Pine, fountain grass, blackeyed Susan and other native plants were used to complement the site.

"Because we used such large trees, they're already providing shade and scale for the people who visit the Town Center and that gives the area an instant community atmosphere. It gives one the impression that it's been there for years," said William Adelizzi, vice president of Countryside Industries, Inc.

Next to the Town Center, the 69-acre Motorola-office campus is following the tradition established by the Deer Park Town Center by using landscaping to enhance the environment for the people who work and recreate in the area.

Once complete, the scenic gardens and large trees will provide a soothing backdrop along foot and bike paths that will run through the Motorola campus and eventually connect to area bike paths.

"While Deer Park is beautiful in itself, these projects will serve as gateways to the community," said Adelizzi. "It's going from old to new and we anticipate that the surrounding land owners and businesses are going to follow the lead of the Deer Park Town Center and the Motorola office campus," he added.

Featuring lush landscaping, a signature gazebo and a variety of upscale shops, Deer Park Town Center is launching a new ear for the Rte. 12 corridor, known for strip malls and high speed automobile commuting to place of employment in northern Cook County and Chicago.

Superior Court names McKoski to teach new judges

Judge Ray McKoski has been appointed by the Illinois Supreme Court to serve on the faculty of a school for new judges to be held in Chicago this December.

All state judges elected or appointed to the bench this year are required to attend the week long orientation program.

Judge McKoski was one of eight judges in the state selected to teach the new judges about judicial ethics.

McKoski

During his 16 years as a judge, McKoski has frequently served as an ethics instructor. He has co-authored a chapter on judicial ethics for the Illinois Judges Association and is vicechairperson of the statewide Judicial Ethics Committee.

Baxter Grant to aid bilingual education

The Baxter International Foundation, the philanthropic arm of Baxter International Inc., is providing a two-year, $58,500 grant to Youth and Family Counseling in Libertyville, to hire a full-time bilingual therapist/parent educator who will focus on serving the needs of Hispanic families in the Round Lake area.

While the Hispanic population in Lake County is about 10 percent, the Hispanic population in the Round Lake area (including Round Lake, Round Lake Beach, Round Lake Heights, Round Lake Park and surrounding areas) is estimated between 34 percent and 40 percent.

The majority of that group covers immigrants from rural Mexico with very little education in Spanish or English. In addition to financial stresses, they face the challenge of assimilating into a new country, cultural and lan-re the cops getting tougher and smarter or are we becoming better behaved? As the annual crime rate statistics reveal a continued drop in the crime rate, probably both of the above can be credited with making our community a safer place. Law enforcement officials readily admit that they had absolutely nothing to do with a major reason for the decade-long drop in the crime rate. A robust economy during the 1990's was a big help. Both State's Atty. Michael Waller and Sheriff Gary Del Re agree on that.

Drop in crime reflects payback

In addition, Waller says longer prison terms, improved police methods and a demographic boost—a decrease in the crime prone age group of 16 to 25 males—helped. Del Re sees improved cooperation between police agencies, more intelligent law enforcement and community policing where citizens are directly involved as contributing factors to the drop.

Year-to-year comparisons of crime statistics are deceiving; in truth, virtually meaningless. One violent crime can alter a category. Changes in reporting methods can distort an individual department's record, both for the good or for the bad. Long-term trends though, can't be denied. From this perspective, the figures support less crime.

We're glad to see community policing getting some credit. Local law enforcement has made significant strides in recent years to encourage citizens to become more involved and it is paying dividends. Citizens are less reluctant to call for assistance or report criminal activity, even minor stuff. In short, citizens are less tolerant of law breaking; they're more willing "to get involved." That's good.

Taxpayers pay a hefty price for police protection. When trends are positive, citizens can be assured they're getting a return on their investment in community safety.

Governor rings bell state-wide ov. George Ryan arrived by helicopter to keep a breakfast speaking date at Prairie Crossing on Rte. 45. Savvy move, Guv, avoiding Lake County's infamous morning drive time congestion.

Kidding aside, the governor delivered to a mostly business group, markedly absent of diversity, what amounted to a re-election speech. Ryan seemingly didn't miss a point, covering the state from top to bottom (actually from bottom to top), ticking off accomplishments of his administration. The veteran political leader stressed his goal and aim of keeping Illinois economically viable. That's the entire state from Cairo to Zion.

Critics of the governor, mostly media oracles in Chicago, forget that Ryan is governor of the entire state—-all the people—-not just residents of Chicago and Cook County. Gov. Ryan knows, unlike many of his distractors, that southern Illinois residents give not a hoot for more runways for O'Hare or how building Rte. 53 might enable Lake County residents to cut several minutes off their commuting time. They're worried about corn prices and getting the coal mines running again at full blast.

The governor made special mention of the good sense of both political parties working together. How easy to forget, but Illinois First revenues were doled out all over Illinois without consideration for political party or voting record. Ryan said there are 3,200 infrastructure improvement projects underway today all over the state. "It's the right thing to rebuild our state. I'd do it over again," he maintained matter-of-factly. Hear that, Windy City pundits?

Ryan took the opportunity to point out that tax relief has been delivered to every person and every family all over Illinois. The gasoline tax elimination alone put $180 million into wallets and pocketbooks of everyone. Unless you get around on a bicycle or a horse-drawn carriage.

In introducing the governor, State Rep. Andrea Moore (R-Libertyville) adroitly listed Ryan's accomplishments, the types of things a governor who is running for re-election would talk about, big picture perspective, gasoline tax break, use of Illinois coal for downstate jobs and northern Illinois energy. Moore said Ryan's moratorium on the death penalty is the act of a courageous leader. Besides transportation and taxation, the governor has focused on open lands preservation, education and quality of life issues. Moore pointedly painted a clear picture. Some list. Some governor.

Despite the distractions and disparagements, Gov. Ryan has a record of accomplishment that will be hard to beat. Oh, he'll be sliced and diced by the media and ungrateful Democrats, but Ryan has taken plenty of hits and he rebounds off the mat like an old-time club fighter.

His visit to Lake County last week was more than a social call. The Ryan Re-election Express is on the track and ready to roll.

VIEWPOINT

Enduring fair a Lake ritual

been a summer highlight in Lake County for 150 years.
The annual Lake County Fair easily is the most enduring public event staged in the third most populous county in Illinois.

The 2001 production—the 73rd annual—opens at the fairgrounds at Rte. 45 and 120, permanent home of the fair since 1956, Tuesday, July 24, for a six-day run.

Until the Lake County Fair Assn. purchased approximately 40 acres at the central location, the fair was staged on a sort of round-robin circuit. Waukegan, Libertyville, Gurnee, Antioch and Wauconda had "moments in the sun" for the popular annual show. Not even the turmoil of World War II could dampen the ardor of fair sponsors. Abbreviated versions of the down-home expo were staged at Viking Park, Gurnee, and the Wauconda High athletic field.

Current fair leadership can trace its roots to the Lake County Agriculture and Horticulture Society founded in pre-Civil War days when the county's rolling countryside and flat stretches still were being settled. The society's 1857 fair was a two-day event held on a Thursday and Friday in Waukegan with a plowing match and horse show in Libertyville the following Monday.

Admission was 25 cents for adults. Children under 12 were charged 10 cents each and members of the society and their families were admitted free. First prize of $6 was posted for the best managed farm with profitabilty overshadowing "the natural advantage or expense of improvement." Lake County's founders obviously were practical-minded businessmen.

Fairgoers next week will find an interesting array of farm products and livestock with a blend of such modern entertainment as country-western music, a rodeo, professional Motocross races, truck and tractor pulls, carnival midway and the ever-popular fair queen competition.

Every fair fan has indelible memories of Lake County's own expo. Your faithful columnist will share some of his next week, as we continue our look at the fair.

Rents too high

The way Pete Tekampe looks at it, throwing good money after good doesn't make any more sense than tossing good money after bad. Tekampe, supervisor of Fremont Township and long-time operator of a custom farming business, sold his 80-acre farm last month to the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. as part of the Lakewood Preserve extension. The sale included an agreement that he could continue to farm the land on a rental basis. No thanks, Tekampe decided, not for $91 per acre which the county is asking and he considers exorbitant. The veteran farmer feels Forest Preserve officials are out of touch with modern agricultural economics. The $71 per acre the county is getting for renting tillable land at nearby Ray Lake Farm Preserve is too high for a lesser grade of soil and still "too much for growing corn and beans" which is what real-life farmers are planting these days.

Who's wrong?

Wauconda Mayor James Eschenbauch is checking out charges . against the police department of indifference toward law breakers. Also, some parents have raised questions of "teen profiling," particularly in connection with over zealous enforcement of traffic laws. Can't have it both ways, folks. One side has to be wrong.

Don't shave Fido

Always enjoy helping debunk old-time theories. Like shaving your pet in the summer to keep it cool. That's a no no, we're told. Your pet's hair coat actually helps keep him cool by trapping cooler air next to the skin. Normal hair also provides protection from sunburn and parasites. Equipping Fido with a flea collar is smart. Flea-related diseases account for more than half of the dermatological problems experienced by dogs.

Jazz on parade

Van Vlissingen and Co. of Lincolnshire, south county corporate park developer, is using music to sooth the jangled nerves of workers. The latest mid-week schedule of noon-time concerts featured the 23-member Midwest Young Artists Jazz Combo based in Highwood. Both elementary and high school age performers can do Miles Davis, Charles Parker and Duke Ellington. The concert setting is on the shore of a lake off Milwauke Ave. and south of Rte. 22.

Doctor demoted

As the picture grows darker for continuation of hospital services at North Chicago VA Hospital, veterans advocates were shocked over the demotion Monday of Dr. Charles Andrus, chief of surgery at Hines VA Hospital, Maywood. Andrus is recognized as one of the few inside whistle-blowers protecting veterans' rights. The pessimistic view is that North Chicago will be "downgraded" to a medical center without a hospital. Sort of a glorified first aid station, one veteran told this column.

Fear new 'Love Canal'

Island Lake residents opposing plans to stockpile Fox River dredgings in their community are fearful of the Love Canal syndrome, where toxic wastes can endanger public health. Fox Waterway Agency Ex. Dir. Ingrid Enriquez says fears of toxins in river sediment are unfounded. Just the same, residents had an opportunity to air their fears at a meeting Thursday night at Moraine Hills State Park.

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Report Pat interested in County Board post emocrats are getting ready to unveil a solid candidate to run for a revamped Lake County Board district covering the Libertyville-Lake Forest area.

Just retired Oak Grove School Superintendent Patrick Pat is looking at the possibilities of elective office as a calling, after completing a distinguished career in elementary education.

The altered district reportedly would be a good fit for Pat, who has been an outspoken advocate for education funding reform. Formed in the redistricting process, the district includes the Village of Green Oaks and the Rondout industrial area, plus a major sector of Lake Forest.

As newly drawn, the district has two Republicans whose future will be at stake in the spring 2002 GOP primary, Mary Beattle of Lake Forest and John Schullen of Libertyville. Both are considering their possibilities in the primary.

Eyes party post

Larry Engles, retired Appellate Court judge, reportedly is talking to supporters about seeking the post of Lake County Republican chairman. He would first have to be elected a precinct committeeman to be eligible. Chairmen of both parties are selected by newly elected committeemen following primary balloting. Party chairs serve two-year terms.

Vice chairman

Gary Skolen, one of the long line of Republicans unsuccessful in unseating Congressman Phil Crane (R-IL), is the new vice chairman of the board of trustees of Northern Illinois University. A resident of Inverness, Skolen has steered clear of elective politics after a primary battle with Crane while he was executive director of the Illinois Capital Development Board (1983-91). He now is CEO of several real estate investment firms.

Bring 'em on!

With the surfacing of Ken Arnold's interest in the seat of County Board Rep. Al Westerman (R-Waukegan), Westerman has taken on a "bring em on" attitude. Arnold, Republican chairman for Warren Township, has been making notable strides building up GOP strength. Westerman already has won two consecutive elections and fully expects to face competition when he runs for re-election in 2002 as will all 23 of the board's members. Westerman also serves as president of the Lake County Forest Preserve. He said he "loves" Forest Preserve duties as part of his public office responsibilities.

'Mayor' Martin

Community activist and political gadfly Jack Martin was comfortable joining a table reserved for mayors at a breakfast speech by Gov. George Ryan.He was the only person at the table not introduced by State Rep. Andrea Moore (R-Libertyville).

Redneck used to be an insulting term for a white member of the Southern rural laboring class until Foxworthy, of Atlanta, Ga., gave the word a sense of humor and a touch of class, so to speak.

The redneck became a good old boy, or girl —bump-kin-like behavior to be proud of.

Redneck pride was on display earlier this month in East Dublin, Ga., where 10,000 folks gathered for the sixth annual Redneck Games, which began as a spoof of the 1996 Atlanta Olympics.

A ceremonial beer-can torch lighting set the stage for such events as a raft race, a shirtless belly flop into a mud pit and obnoxious armpit music. There also were fireworks and food, including fried alligator on a stick.

Shocking vote was shocked to note that newly elected Congressman Mark Kirk (R-10) voted with the opponents of campaign reform. During our recent campaign, Mr. Kirk repeatedly commented that not only did he support my longtime position in favor of campaign finance reform, but that if elected he would become a sponsor of and fight for campaign finance legislation in congress.

As vice-chair of the Illinois
House Elections and Campaign Reform Committee, I worked hard with such groups as the League of Women Voters and Common Cause to sponsor and help pass legislation to reform campaign laws in Illinois. But until such laws are changed at the national level, I fear that all Americans will continue to be held hostage by the strong tie between big money and our nation's public policy. Congressman Kirk had said during the campaign that he agreed.

Senator John McCain, who stumped for Mr. Kirk in Illinois on this issue, observed cynically that the recent political maneuvering by partisan Republicans in Washington was the "last refuge of the scoundrels." Having survived one of the most expensive House races in the nation, I would have though Mark Kirk would be more, not less, committed to the campaign reform process.

'Low hazard' joke

We were outraged to hear the Illinois Dept. of Natural Resources (IDNR) proposed plan for a disposal facility that would be literally in our backyard. Our first thoughts were, this cannot be safe and if the waste is harmful to the water in the Fox River, how can it be safe to put in our neighborhood?

In reality, those concerns only touch the surface. I am a cancer survivor of a cancer linked to exposure to environmental agents. Why would the IDNR place a disposal facility in a residential neighborhood? Can the IDNR be 100 percent sure that the agents being dumped in the facility will not be harmful to the adults and children living in the surrounding area? I hardly think so, not from what we have read. Try fighting cancer and then we'll see what you think. I fear for my own health, the health of my husband and future children. I fear for the lives of the families in our neighborhood.

Class III (low hazard), that's a joke. What that means to us is the IDNR hopes that nothing happens to the residents of Island Lake and "low hazard" protects them if something does happen to our residents.

Mindy and Douglas Phillips Island Lake

Relocate dredgings

The proposed R-15 sediment disposal facility site at Porten Rd. and Wayside Dr., Island Lake is of grave concern.

As residents of five years, we have seen our surrounding environment flourish with populations of sandhill cranes, egrets, herons, deer and other wildlife. This is not the time to be discouraging this wildlife from occupying this area by constructing a potential environmental hazard. Our community is a quiet, country setting and we care deeply about our water and air quality, a safe environment for children, and our property values.

Our community will not benefit AT ALL from this proposed site. If the state needs a site to dispose the Fox Waterway Agency's sediment, let that site be in the community of the Chain o' Lakes, where the community is actually benefiting from the dredging. The Chain 'O Lakes community benefits from the recreational dollars spent there and the use of the waterways, so let them take ownership of the dredged material.

Hyper-growth

I am deeply concerned about the proposed Neumann Homes development in Antioch. A development of this magnitude, capable of almost doubling the population of Antioch in less than eight years, will have a catastrophic affect on our community.

The Planning and Zoning Board of Antioch, much to their credit, recognized the danger of such hypergrowth and has rejected Neumann Homes twice after their presentation of such a socially irresponsible development. It seems now that those who may favor such a development have gone on the offensive and claimed that if Neumann Homes is not given their way, they will file lawsuits which will bankrupt the Village of Antioch.

The only way Neumann Homes pushes maximum density is through the granting of numerous variances to our important zoning laws. The village is not obligated to grant such variances. I would think that before Neumann Homes could bring litigation, they would first have to submit and be turned down on a proposal which would adhere to all the zoning laws.

Hospital disappearing

Federal bureaucrats have slowly whittled away at North Chicago VA Hospital whereby it is only a shell of what it once was. Two of eight wings are used as a medical/surgical entity. Include the intensive care unit and the outpatient surgical suite. You can see how the erosion of the facility has slowly but quietly been taking place right before our very eyes.

Now we are told that the hospital is a goner. There are no plans for a hospital in any of the CARES options. There is no money to reopen the hospital. In fact, the hospital is going to be a state nursing home, we're told. What? A state nursing in a Federal hospital when there are so many veterans who are in need of proper medical attention? And when there are so many vacant buildings to house a nursing home, why put it in a hospital? So the Options Study remains on the table and veterans will have to go to other far off places for their medical/surgical needs.

There are no veterans on the steering committee to negotiate for veterans. Why? Federal law prevents anyone that is not an employee from making decisions for veterans. Huh? No wonder veterans have been getting the short end of the stick for so long. Who perpetrated this fraud against veterans?

Dislikes tax

I hope someone will take action to let the Village of Round Lake Beach know how they feel about the proposed increase in sales tax by a half cent.

I feel this tax will cause many longtime residents to shop elsewhere. For years I have done over 95 percent of my shopping in Round Lake Beach.

I do not shop in the Gurnee area anymore due to the half cent tax increase. I now go to Fox Lake or Libertyville if I can't purchase some items in Round Lake Beach.

Seniors can find helpful services online

The household computer has become as standard today as our telephones and televisions. Most families use their computers to access the Internet and seniors are no exception. According to a recent Pew Internet survey, 51 percent of adults between the ages of 50 and 64 are online and 15 percent of the 65-andolder population is as well.

While most seniors initially may have used the Internet to communicate with their family and friends scattered across the country, they also have found a whole world of information at their fingertips including new ways to research products, services, investments and general information. This ability to research companies has become very important to homeowners who hire contractors and tradespeople for their home maintenance and repair projects.

Companies like ServiceMagic.com, which matches consumers with prescreened service professionals, provide consumers with extraassurances knowing the initial research required has been done for them. Consumers can rest assured that the service professionals who contact them are not only interested and qualified to do the job, but have been screened for proper licensing, clean legal and bankruptcy backgrounds, and Better Business Bureau background checks.

"It used to be you grew up in a tight-knit community and could better rely on referrals from friends and neighbors," says Rodney Rice, co-CEO and co-founder of ServiceMagic, Inc. "With Americans being more transient today, most of those connections have been lost, so people are using the Internet to reestablish those connections and make informed choices when hiring local service professionals."

A survey by the AARP found more than two-thirds of older Americans describe themselves as very satisfied with their current housing and community circumstances. A sizable majority of respondents own a traditional single-family house, have lived in their home for many years, and plan to remain there for the rest of their lives.

However, most homes are designed for young adults and don't have the features and conveniences to make them appropriate and safe for seniors. A well adapted home will make many day-to-day living tasks both easier and safer -- often preventing the most common kinds of accidents. Sometimes installation of grab bars and handrails can make all the difference for an aging homeowner. In addition to people with wheelchairs and walkers, other disabilities which can affect one's ability to function independently and safely include: loss or decrease in hearing, vision, strength and ability to lift and reach. A decrease in dexterity (ability to open doors, turn knobs, etc.), a declining sense of smell (ability to smell smoke), and the onset of dementia/Alzheimer's are other disabilities to consider. Changing lighting, flooring, and replacing door knobs with levers are some remodeling projects that can help give those with disabilities more independence and privacy, save time, provide convenience and increase the general safety in a home. In general, there are four types of adaptations you should consider in your home:

- Mobility into and throughout your home
- Handholds and railings
- Easy-to-use handles and controls
- Other safety issues

Mobility

As we get older, we will have more difficulty getting around and steps will become a significant barrier. Even if we never use a wheelchair, most of us would like to be able to make better use of grocery bag carts, strollers, wheeled trash cans, wheeled luggage and a variety of other conveniences. All these devices are stopped cold by steps. Like wheelchairs, they are also difficult to maneuver in tight spaces once inside the home.

One of the easiest ways to make your home easier to live in is to design it so that at least one entrance to the main living level can be accessed without going up or down steps. In many cases, this means rerouting or regrading the front walk and porch. If this is done in conjunction with replacing a walkway, there will be little, if any, additional cost. Inside the home, there usually aren't many steps that are easily eliminated. Just make sure that if you put on an addition, it isn't necessary to use steps to get into it! Another approach that works well is to prepare for singlelevel living. This means that as you make changes over the years, seek to give yourself the option of living entirely on one level --even if only temporarily. That means making sure the full bath, kitchen and main bedroom are all on one level. Having laundry facilities on the same level is also a big plus. Maneuverability is most critical in the kitchen and the bathroom. Use floor surfaces that don't become slippery when wet. Widen spaces and doorways. Whenever possible, design doorways that are 36 inches wide. Also, try to eliminate thresholds (those wooden, metal or stone bumps on floors in doorways) bigger than one-half inch. Make sure the thresholds used have beveled (sloped) edges. While you don't give any thought to them when you are fully mobile, they present real obstacles to wheelchairs and other wheeled devices. These changes will not only make your home wheelchair friendly, but also give it a more open, spacious feel.

Handholds and Railings

The next issue to focus on is handholds. While it seems kind of unnecessary, keep in mind that many serious falls could be prevented with adequate railings and grips. This is especially true in the bathroom. Make sure you've got plenty of support around the toilet and the tub or shower. Does every step in the house have an adequate railing? Be aware that many original stair banisters aren't strong enough to support an adult's body weight. That is why railings need to be checked and reinforced if necessary.

A room-by-room review of handles and knobs can yield a substantial list of inadequacies. Doorknobs, window handles, faucets and other controls can be difficult for many people. Make sure they are easy to operate. The kitchen may be the most critical room of all. Can the stove control knobs be reached without risking a burn? Will knobs be easy to turn as hands become less nimble? How about the sink faucet? What about all those cabinet and drawer handles?

Other Safety Issues

Finally, there are some other issues to consider. The odds are that your neighborhood will become less safe over time. Have you taken adequate home security measures? Do you have bright, automatic external lights? What about internal lighting? As people get older, they need brighter light to see the same things. Reading lights need to be brighter. Well-lit stairs become more important. An intercom provides added safety and a convenient way to communicate with others when it's difficult to get around. Something as simple as a peephole in the front door can be very mertime like a kid. I was very sure of myself with this until we started seeing a lot of her friends enrolled and going again this summer. It made me question whether this was a mistake or not. Not all of her friends are in school, but some are. Do you think we made a mistake in skipping the school thing for the summer and if so, what might we see from it. G.G.

Hi G.G.,

Don't sweat it! The answer is...yes it is good to improve education every chance you get, but I highly doubt that one summer of fun and relaxation is going to do anything bad for your daughter. We all need a break from it all sometimes. I'm sure she is thrilled about it too! That is not to say that the parents who have enrolled their kids for the summer made a mistake either. There is plenty of summer and plenty of learning time to go around.

If it will make you feel better, you could do some educational things on your own. For example, you can ask for a book to be read over a certain time interval. You could ask for a book of her choice to be read each week or two weeks of the summer time. If you are concerned about the types of books she might choose, you might put together a list of books from the library that are age appropriate for her to pick from. I think an hour or two of reading a day would not be a bad thing. She could even read outside if she wanted to so it feels more summer-like. If you have a computer, another thing you could do is run out to a place that carries computer learning programs or learning based games and ask her to do a certain amount of time on those each day. When picking programs, focus on areas that could use improvement or on weak areas. Best Buy has a lot of great titles.

Now, keep in mind that just because I have recommended some work for the summertime, it doesn't mean that I want you to fill every waking moment with these things for her. That would be very destructive. Be reasonable and relax.

Another thing you could do is to make your family outings educational. Try going to a museum or maybe the Art Institute. Even the zoo is a wonderful educational experience.

This way, you are filling up at least some of her summertime with some educational activities and keeping her brain switched to "on" during the summer. Again, if you choose to not do any of these things, I think she will be fine. Stop worrying about this and enjoy your time together. If your worry is based on your feeling that she is having any problems processing information or learning, or problems with attention, and you think she will fall behind in school because of it, you should call me and we can consult further about what kinds of extra help I might be able to offer you prior to the fall.

Health Dept. recommends getting the B'attitude

The Lake County Health Department/ Community Health Center is encouraging adults to get the "B" attitude. That's "B" for the B vitamin, folic acid. This B vitamin is important in cell growth and maintenance in a health person.

"Studies show that everyone can benefit from taking folic acid, not just women of childbearing age," said Toby Stern, R.D., L.D., a Registered Dietitian with the Lake County Health Department/ Community Health Center and a spokesperson with the Illinois Dietetic Association. "Recent research shows that folic acid or folate has a preventive effect on heart disease, cancer, as well as birth defects."

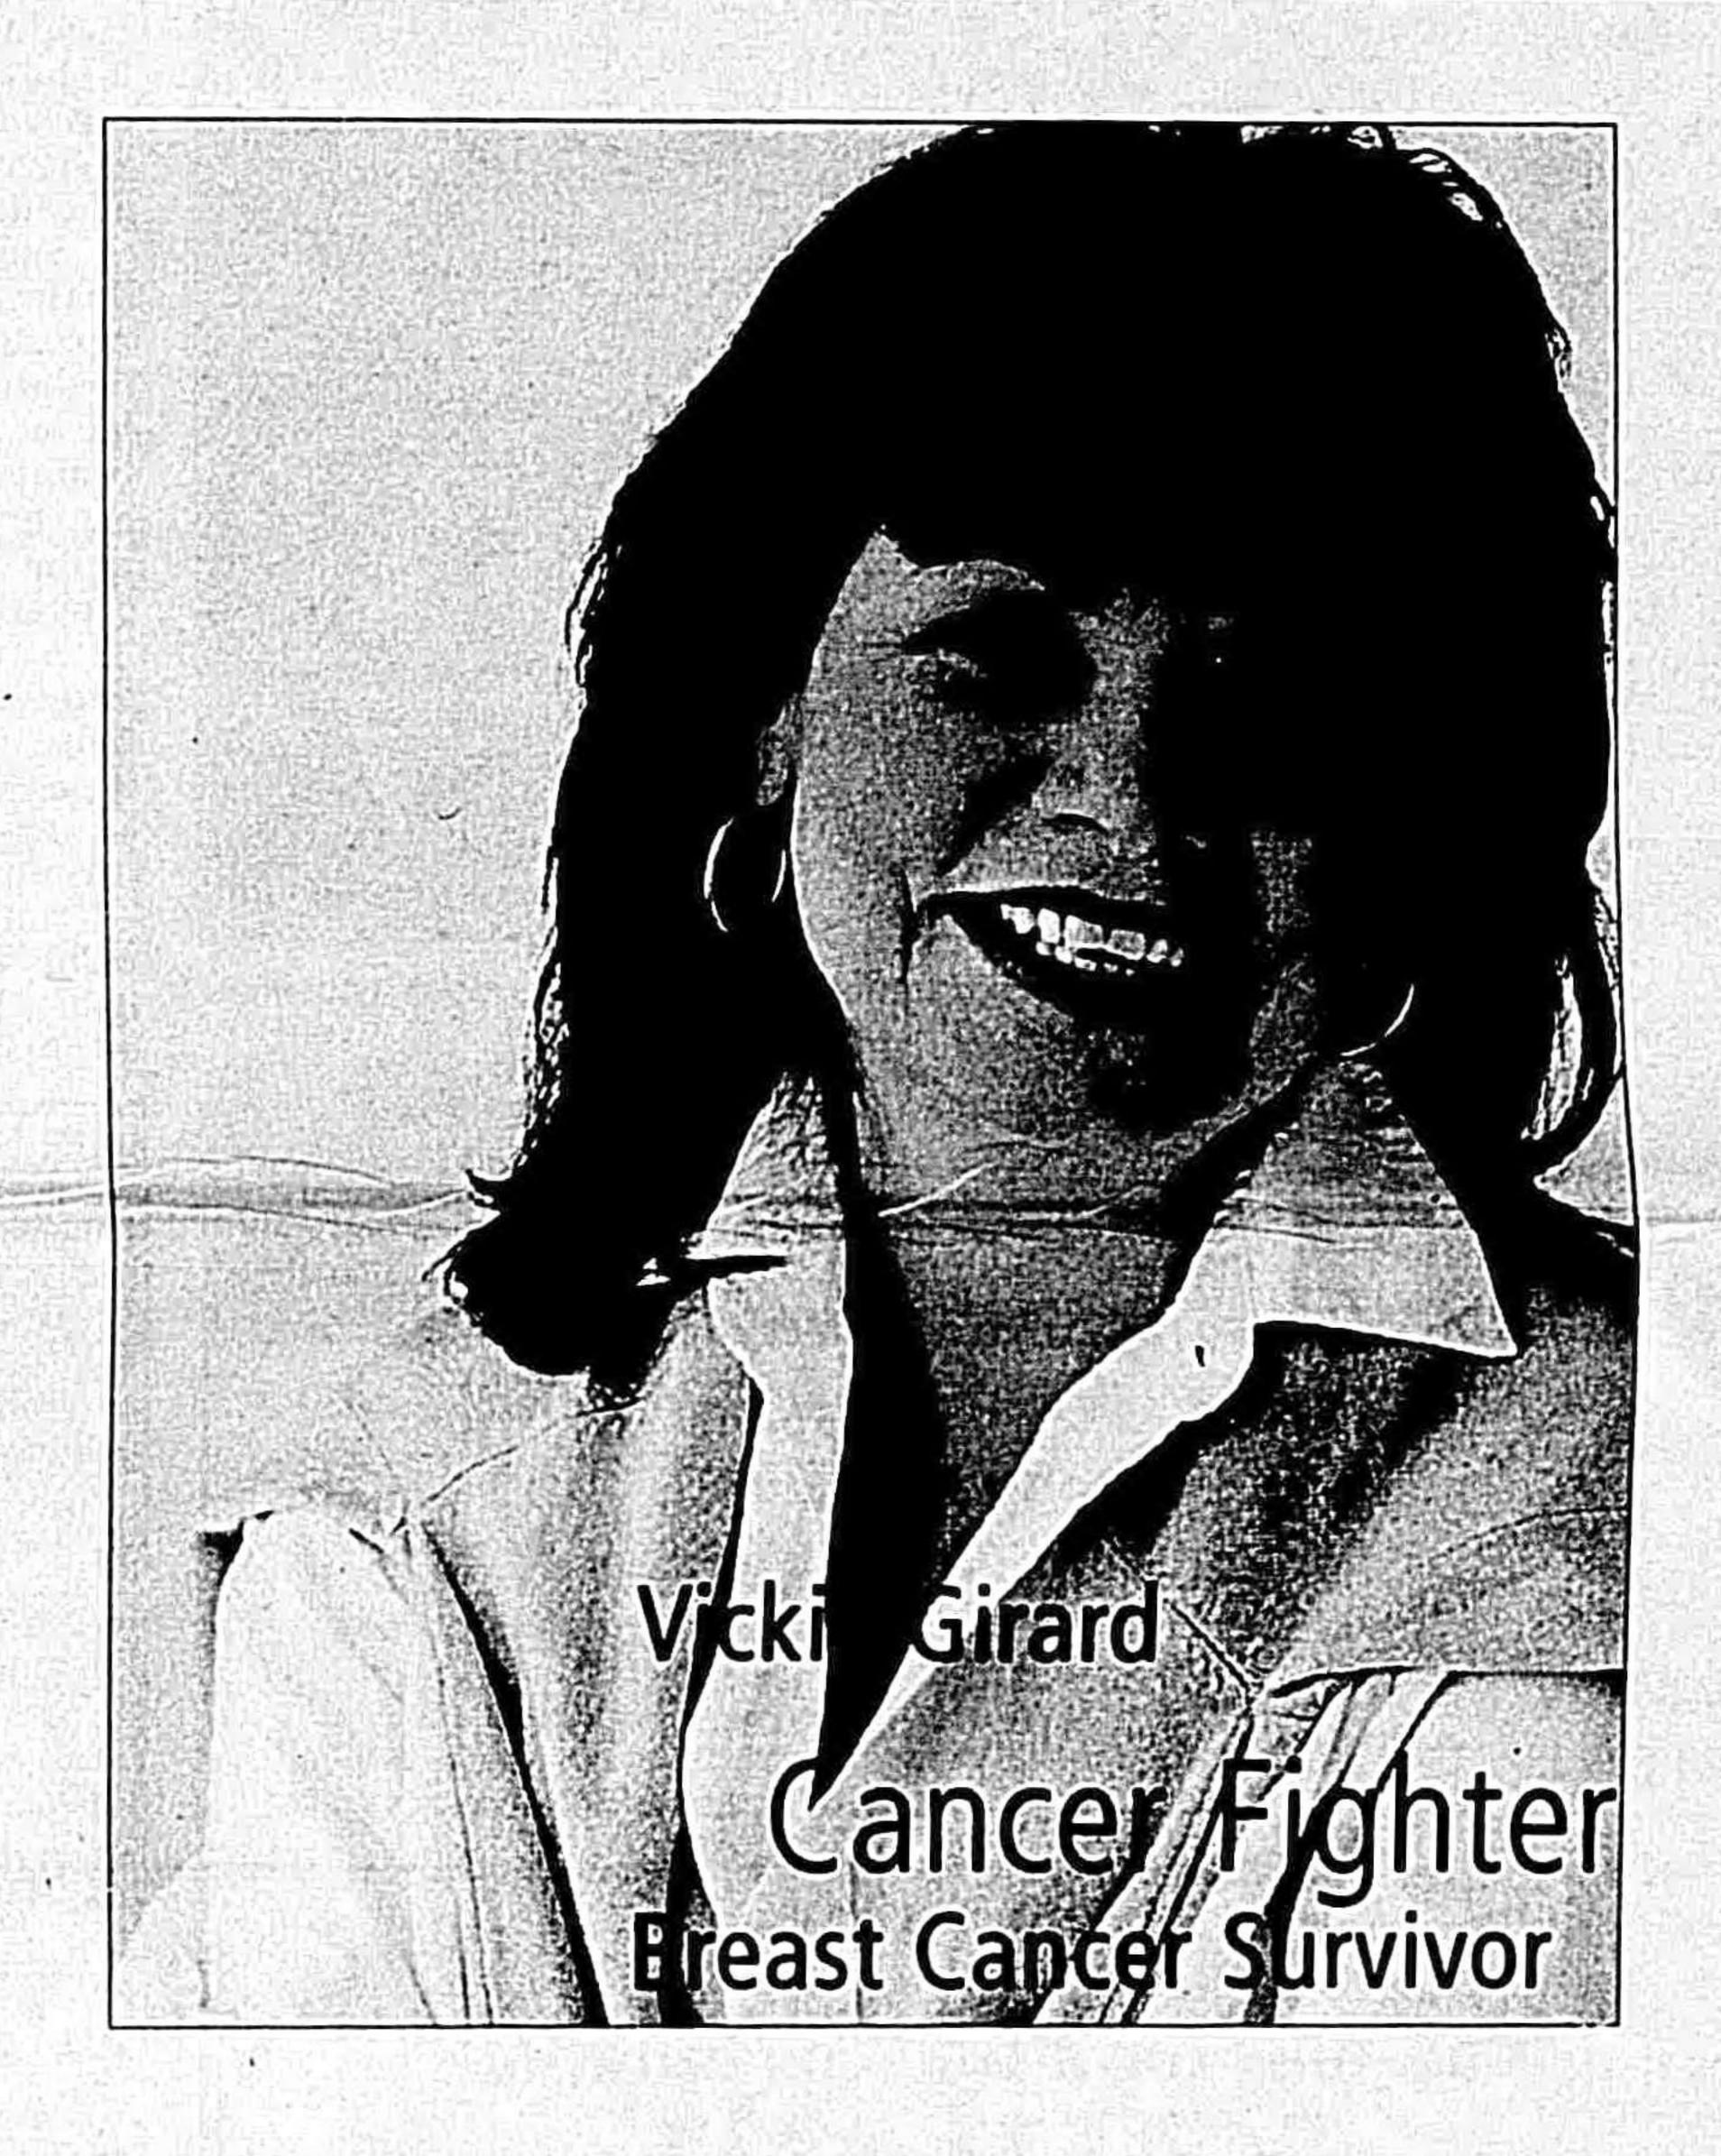

The March of Dimes recommends that all women of childbearing age consume a multivitamin containing 400 micrograms of folic acid every day in addition to eating a health diet. Folic acid can help a baby's brain and spine grow properly during the first months of pregnancy as well as prevent birth defects.

Folate is the "food" form of the B vitamin; it occurs naturally in foods. Some folate is lost in the cooking process and the storage of food. Fresh, frozen or canned fruits and vegetables are all good sources of folate. Stern suggests some ways to boost your folate: Eat at least five servings of fruits and vegetables every day; Refrigerate fruits and vegetables (but don't keep them long, as folate will be lost); Limit re-heating of folate rich-foods; Microwave or steam foods (folate is destroyed in cooking water, such as boiling foods). Foods rich in folate are beans (lentils, pinto, chickpeas, red kidney beans, navy beans and split peas), peanuts, cantaloupe, orange juice and oranges, spinach, peas, brussels sprouts, broccoli and asparagus.

'Painted Ladies' contest deadline entry nears

Send application with before and after color photographs (no Polaroids) as well as paint chips. Deadline for entry is Labor Day.

emorial Day was the official kick-off of this "beauty contest" for houses. This is a search for area residences or commercial properties that have been repainted imaginatively by their owners this year. The search continues throughout the summer, with a final date to enter scheduled for Labor Day. All winners will be honored with a special plaque prepared to commemorate their achievement.

This unusual beautification project for houses originated in Chicago and has received national attention. Seven houses have been features in the book "Painted Ladies, U.S.A." by Larsen & Pomada.

Sponsored by the Chicago Paint & Coatings Association, homes and business properties that were repainted and beautified within the past year are eligible for recognition. Homes are judged on beauty of paint application, how the colors chosen fit the home, and how colors fit the neighborhood that surrounds the property.

A number of interesting stories are told by the winners each year. Most of those entering agree that much planning is part of this beautification process. For some winners it concludes several years of preparation.

Homes and commercial properties within a 50 mile radius of Chicago are eligible. This year Northwestern Indiana owners will also be eligible to enter.

The area is divided into North,
Northwest, West, Southwest and South, with winners selected in each area.
Homes are sometimes painted by the owners themselves, or by contractors.
These are judged separately.

Houses or commercial properties need not be in Victorian style. Most important is the imaginative use of color and interesting application. Entries have varied from landmark homes to dwellings in simple style, but painted with a flair.

The Public Libraries have books on how to create a "Painted Lady." This trend of paying more attention to choice of color and detail seems to be part of current living. In some instances entire neighborhoods have been inspired to freshen up the housing stock. There literally are now hundreds of colors, or shades of colors, available for creating a better looking house.

This year's 15th Anniversary promises to be especially exciting. Besides receiving their colorful trophies, a special birthday celebration is planned for the 2001 winners when the event concludes on Labor Day.

For more information and an applications for this competition, call the Chicago Paint & Coatings Association, Suite 216, 400 E. State Parkway, Schaumburg, IL. Call 755-9850. You may also obtain information and an application on the website: www.chicagopaint.org.

Stage 2 work begins this week on the I-94 repair project in Racine County, which is on schedule despite having started a month late because of a material shipping delay.

"The big difference for motorists during Stage 2 will be that the southbound off-ramp to WIS 11 will close for several weeks," said Steve Hoff, project manager for the Wisconsin Department of Transportation.

Mike O'Brien, with WisDOT public relations, said that even though May and June were rainy, the weather hasn't played into the construction delay.

He said extra night work has been done due to the delay in materials.

Occasional short term closures will be scheduled on all ramps in the 12-mile corridor between the Milwaukee and Kenosha County lines during the rest of the project while milling, base patching, paving or other operations are scheduled in the ramp areas, Hoff said.

One freeway lane will remain closed and two open in both directions.

Three other closures that began when the project started May 7 remain in effect: the northbound off-ramp to northbound 27th St., the WIS 11 on-ramp to northbound I-94, and the County G bridge over I-94.

Hoff said the $16.64 million project remains on target for completion around Oct. 1.

"We have been able to make up time lost at the start with aggressive scheduling, more night shifts, and hard work by all the crews," Hoff said.

Also starting Monday, southbound drivers approaching the construction zone will benefit from an experimental technology called Travel Time Prediction System (TIPS), which will advise motorists of travel times in the work area.

O'Brien said that the 55 mph speed limit in the work zones has been aggressively enforced.

"Traffic flow has been steady, but there have been no serious slow downs except at rush hour," he said. "Drivers have been pretty understanding."

Portable changeable message signs will operate on southbound I-94 near the Airport Spur and north of Ryan Road in southern Milwaukee County.

Based on travel times posted on the signs, drivers heading toward Racine County could decide to divert from the freeway at College Ave. or at Ryan, said Tom Notbohm, a WisDOT traffic engineer.

Notbohm explained that the signs will receive commands from a TIPS computer and portable sensors along I-94.

The sensors will record construction zone traffic volume and the computer will convert the data to travel times, then relay the message to the portable signs.

Alternate routes will be marked along S. 27th St. an the southbound frontage road on the west side of the traffic on College at 1-94, and eastbound traffic on Ryan at I-94.

The system was first used last year as part of a construction project through September as part of a Midwest States Smart Work Zone pooled fund study.

Other participating states are Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri, Notbohm said.

Engineers at Marquette University and University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee will evaluate the test, he said.

Invaders Baruffi, Bailey qualify for Junior Olympics

By ROB BACKUS Staff Reporter

Following a wonderful season for all 35 members of the Waukegan Invaders, a traveling USATF track team, the young group will send its top two members, Antioch's Anthony Baruffi and Zion's Aireonna Bailey, to the US-ATF National Junior Olympics Championship in Sacramento from July 24-29.

"I feel good about our showing," said Invaders head coach Ken Almond. "It was a good effort by everyone."

Surprisingly, Baruffi qualified in the long jump and the 400 meter dash, traditionally his strongest event.

Baruffi made his best jump in three years, finishing in second place with a 19-9 1/2 foot jump.

"I was really surprised that I qualified in the long jump," said Baruffi. "I was scared going into the tournament because my timing was off but (assistant coach Adrian) Abbott helped a lot and I got back into a groove."

Baruffi narrowly missed qualifying in the 400 with a personal best time of 51.53 seconds, just three-tenths of a second from third place and a spot in the Junior Olympics.

"It was disappointing not to qualify in the 400 because I worked so hard all season," said Baruffi. "It's depressing in a way, but I still get to go in the long jump."

Bailey overcame heat exhaustion in the 90plus degree temperatures to finish first in the 100 and 200 meter dashes and second in the 400 meter dash.

The following Invaders placed in the top seven but failed to qualify: Jordan Davis (Gurnee) fourth place-400 meter dash, Kendace Martin (Zion) fourth place-100 and 200 meter dashes, Sierra Sherrod (Waukegan) 4th place-long jump, seventh place-100 and 200 meter dashes and Dominkque Williams (Zion) seventh place-long jump.

Despite the pressure of competing in the Junior Olympics, it's business as usual at the Invaders' practice.

"We plan to prepare the way we always do," said Almond. "We're going to practice three times a week, relax and stick to our plans."

Baruffi, however, does have some special preparations for the Junior Olympics.

"I'm really going to concentrate on the long jump in practice," said Baruffi. "I'm going to start lifting leg weights—I need more power in my jump."

In only its third season competing, the Waukegan Invaders youth track team of the USATF has turned in another solid summer season. The Invaders finished second in the Belvidere Invitational followed by a fourth-place effort in the DeKalb Meet. The team then had another strong showing at last week's Regional VII Junior Olympics Qualifying event, held in Lisle. The Invaders include, bottom row. from left, Larry Borden, Deshawn Towers, Robert Sherrod, Krystal Rodriguez, Aireonna Bailey, Antonia Bland, Jordan Davis, Kendace Martin, Michael Taylor, Candace Clark, Patrick Cole, Lataja Bland and Sierra Sherrod. Second row, from left, includes Linda Simmons, Head Coach Ken Almond, Karian Martin, Amelia Leonard, Shawna Henders, Synquis Grover, Porsche Brakes, Reginold Jones, Anthony Davis and Coach Adrian Abbott. Top row, from left, includes Shakita Lowery, Therese Santana, Darryl Burroughs, Crystal Matsey, Jerry Mims, Anthony Baruffi and Coach Michael Taylor. LOCAL SPORTS DIGEST

The Court Aces, Celeste Pregracke and Becky Glfford, will be running the Regional Tennis Meet for Northeastern Illinois Special Olympics.

This annual event cannot be held without the help of volunteers. Volunteers will be needed throughout the day to assist the Court Aces on the fun court, to pick up balls, to help on a match court or to just provide encouragement. The work is fun and very rewarding.

The event will be held at Riverside Park in Libertyville on Saturday, July 28. Opening ceremony starts at 9 a.m. and the competition runs from 9:30 a.m.-4 p.m.

Volunteers may choose the hours convenient to them with a minimum of three hours. For more information or to sign up, call Celeste at 662-5038.

The College of Lake County is organizing a fall baseball league for players not competing in a high school fall sport. Six teams will be formed to compete from the first week in September through the first week in October. Games will be at 4:15 Mon.-Fri. at the Gene Hanson Baseball Field on the campus of CLC. The cost for the league is $45 per player. Anyone interested should contact CLC Head Baseball Coach and CLC Athletic Director Gene Hanson at 543-2046 or stop by the Physical Education Center (Building No. 7) for a registration form. Only 84 players will be able to play, so hurry and register! Results

Jim Friend, wrestling for the Libertyville High School Summer Team, earned the starting spot at 143 pounds for the Illinois Junior National Freestyle Wrestling Team. Friend and 15 other top Illinois wrestlers competed in Oklahoma for Team Illinois at the prestigious USA Junior National Duals Freestyle Tournament.

Friend and Team Illinois competed against 32 of the best wrestling teams in the nation. Awards were given to the teams that finished from first through ninth place. Friend helped Team Illinois capture a ninth place finish, the highest finish ever by an Illinois team at this toumament.

Friend earned five wins during the competition. Of his five wins, three were by pins including an opponent from New Jersey who is a current individual National Champion. Friend earned another win by a Technical Fall score of 13-3.

In two weeks Friend travels to Fargo, ND. to compete in the 2001 USA Individual Greco Roman and Freestyle Junior National Championships.

Congratulations to Grayslake's Nell Lesinski, who won the K-Swiss Open Tennis Championships in the 14-year-old age bracket. Lesinski cruised to the title with a 6-0, 6-3 straight set victory in the finals.

The soon-to-be freshman at Grayslake High was 4-0 heading in to the finals, winning each of his matches in straight sets. Lesinski will next compete in the Midwest Open in Toledo, Ohio at the end of July.

Catherine Foss

Age 78, died July 8, 2001 in her home in California. Formerly of Mundelein, she was born Nov. 21, 1922 in Chicago and attended Eli Whitney Elementary and Farragut High School.

Catherine married Richard Foss April 4, 1943. Later that year she enlisted in the Marine Corps, and achieved the rank of Corporal before her discharge in 1946.

Catherine was a devoted mother of five children. Richard, Bill and Tom came first and when Cathy Lou was born, Catherine cried out, "Whee, we've got a girl." Her youngest, David, arrived a few years later.

The Foss family moved to Mundelein in 1956. Catherine served as a Cub Scouts Pack and Brownie Troop leader, taught Sunday School and sang in the choir. She and her husband were members of Choral Dynamics, an organization of 100 voices that gave several concerts a year, donating proceeds to charities. Catherine loved to paint in oils and in addition to painting many still lifes and family portraits, painted a portrait of Pastor Nelson, St. Andrews Church that still hangs in the church entrance.

In 1965, with her active help campaigning, Catherine's husband was elected Mayor of Mundelein. During Mayor Foss' eight years in office, she gave much to the community and was an important support to her husband, counseling criticizing, and applauding his efforts on behalf of Mundelein. She even dressed in a Cosmonaut uniform to ride in the Mundelein float in the Chicago State Street Parade. The entire community loved her.

Catherine and Richard Foss moved to California in 1985 but loved to return to visit friends in the Chicago area.

She is survived by her husband, children and grandchildren. Although family and friends are deeply saddened at her passing, rather than grieve we rejoice in the fact that she is safe in the arms of Jesus.

Children from households that meet Federal guidelines are eligible for free lunch. Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free lunch benefits, households must complete the application as soon as possible, sign it and return it to the school. Additional copies of the application form are available at the principal's office in each school. Households should answer all applicable questions on the form. An application that does not contain all the required information cannot be processed and approved by the school. The required information is as follows:

FOOD STAMP/TANF HOUSEHOLDS: Households that currently receive food stamps or Temporary Assistance For Needy Families (TANF) for their child(ren), only have to list the child(ren)'s name and food stamp or TANF case number and sign the application. Link card and medical card number cannot be used.

ALL OTHER HOUSEHOLDS: If a household's income is at or below the level shown on the income scale, children are eligible for free lunch. Households must provide the following information: (1) the names of all household members, (2) the Social Security number of the adult household member signing the application, or the word none if the adult does not have a Social Security number, (3) the amount of income each household member received last month and where it comes from (wages, child support, etc.), and (4) the signature of an adult household member.

The information on the application may be verified by school or other officials at any

If Income information is provided and children are approved for free lunch, households must tell the school when their household income increases by $50 or more per month ($600 per year) or when their household size decreases. If a food stamp or TANF case number is listed, the household must tell the school when they no longer receive food stamps or TANF for their child.

Households may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. Households that are not eligible now but have a decrease in household income, an increase in household size, or have a household member that becomes unemployed should fill out an application at that time.

In certain cases, foster children are eligible for free lunch regardless of the household income. Households that have foster children living with them and wish to apply for free lunch for them should complete the application.

Households dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss it with the school. Households also have the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing the following official:

An application that does not contain all the required information cannot be processed and approved by the school. The required information is as follows:

FOOD STAMP/TANF HOUSEHOLDS: Households that currently receive food stamps or Temporary Assistance For Needy Families^{TMTM} (TANF) for their child(ren), only have to list the child(ren)'s name and food stamp or TANF case number and sign the application. Link card and medical card number cannot be used.

ALL OTHER HOUSEHOLDS: If a household's income is at or below the level shown on the income scale, children are eligible for free milk. Households must provide the following information: (1) the names of all household members, (2) the Social Security number of the adult household member signing the application, or the word none if the adult does not have a Social Security number, (3) the amount of income each household member received last month and where it comes from (wages, child support, etc.), and (4) the signature of an adult household member.

The Information on the application may be verified by school or other officials at any time during the school year.

If income information is provided and children are approved for free milk, households must tell the school when their household income increases by $50 or more per month ($600 per year) or when their household size decreases. If a food stamp or TANF case number is listed, the household must tell the school when they no longer receive food stamps or TANF for their child.

Households may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. Households that are not eligible now but have a decrease in household income, an increase in household size, or have a household member that becomes unemployed should fill out an application at that time.

In certain cases, foster children are eligible for free milk regardless of the household income. Households that have foster children living with them and wish to apply for free milk for them should complete the application.

Households dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss it with the school. Households also have the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing the following official:

Ben Martindale, Superintendent Gurnee School District #56 900 Kilbourn Road, Gurnee, IL 60031 (847) 336-0800

PUBLIC NOTICE

Due to the lack of rain and concern for the aquifers from which Village wells draw water, the Village of Lake Villa has instituted the following sprinkling hours.

Lawn and garden sprinkling (except hand watering) for even-numbered addresses is allowed on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 8:00 p.m. to 8:00 a.m. the following morning. Residents with odd-numbered addresses are asked to sprinkle on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday from 8:00p.m. to 8:00 a.m. the following morning. Residents are asked not to sprinkle on Sunday.

These restrictions will be in place until the water operator feels we have received sufficient rain to alleviate any potential water shortages. If everyone cooperates, further watering bans may be avoided.

If you have any questions, please contact the Village Hall at 356-6100. 0701C-4173-LV July 20, 2001

Format your Resume to make it Readable By Scott T. Fleischmann

As we have discussed in this column before, recruiters are usually overworked. Most often they are working on many open positions and they need to find qualified candidates quickly and efficiently. Since they are constantly receiving resumes from many sources, each recruiter needs to prioritize the resumes. Typically recruiters read the resumes in the order of the highest priority.

As a candidate, of course, you want your resume to be one of the first to be reviewed. But how can you attract the recruiter's attention? Recruiters will be attracted to well written, easy to read resumes that look like they are professionally done. There are professional services that will help you to put a resume together. However, if you would like to try it yourself, here are some helpful suggestions:

Use a high quality lightly colored paper for your resume, such as off white. Do not use paper that is dark or paper that has a visible pattern in the background. You want your resume to stand out in the stack of resumes, but you do not want it to appear gaudy.

Leave as much open space as possible on the resume, including wide margins and double-spacing where possible. This open space gives the Impression that the resume can be read quickly.

Use a family of fonts that looks professional and vary the font within the family to highlight certain words, especially words that are important to the specific job. Do not use colored letters of highlighting on the resume. Always make the font size large enough to be easily read.

Limit the length of the resume. For most jobs one page resumes are best. However, if you have extensive experience or varied skills that need detailed explanation use as few pages as possible. I have reviewed thousands of resumes and in my opinion no resume should ever go beyond

Include only the information that is important to the job for which you are applying. If you have much varied experience, I suggest putting together a resume that includes all of that experience. However, when you send out a resume for a specific job, include only the information that is related to that Job. So on the computer you may have a resume that is six pages long, but you may never send out a resume that is more than two pages. Do not include examples of your work or pictures with your resume. If you have work samples that you believe will help you get the job, mention them in the cover letter. Explain that you would like to bring these samples along to the Interview. That may be the Incentive the recruiter needs to invite you in for a visit. Ultimately, the only purpose of the resume is to entice the employer to invite you in for an interview.

Finally, send a clear concise cover letter with each resume. The cover letter should describe who you are and why you are applying for a job with this company. Each cover letter should be specific to the Job for which you are applying and it should give the reader a reason to look at the resume. More on cover letters next week.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

O: I worked for (name withheld) three years ago in Customer Service and left due to maternity leave and the knowledge that I would not be returning afterward as a first time mom. My company was ok with this and told me that I was welcome to come back as I was on a "rehire status" with them. I have now decided to go back to work and contacted them to let them know I am ready to return. Staff at the company over the past three years has changed and the person in human resources sounded confused by my telephone call. I told her that I was able to start as soon as the following Monday, when she started to laugh. I asked what was so funny and she replied with something such as, "I don't know who you are, but I'll just get right on it." I continued the conversation with telling her I didn't know who she was either, but I was assured a position back with the company when I was ready to return. She said she would look into it and call me back. I gave her my name and telephone number. Later that afternoon I called again and left a message for the same person on voice mail stating that I had not heard back from her and was waiting for a return call. By the next morning I still had not heard and left a message for the Manager of the Customer Service department to call me back. I waited all day and no return call. I called back the original person and told her that I was concerned that she never returned my call. Her response to me was something like, I wasn't aware that you were my new boss and abruptly told me that she would get back to me when she got back to me. I have noticed in previous columns of yours that you are able to get involved from time to time when someone needs answers from an employer or former employer. I am asking you to please get in touch with this company and find out why I was told one thing and am getting what seems to be the brush off. I have enclosed my telephone and e-mail address below and can by reached at any time. I am anxious to go back there as soon as possible.

Thank you, B.H. - Waukegan A: Wow! There are always a minimum of two sides to stories like these... usually three. First let me start by saying that your initial approach to the company was told to me to be "demanding and sarcastic". A person on a rehire status is not guaranteed a job. Take into consideration that a company may have no available position existing for anyone on a rehire status. Just because you are ready does not mean the company after three years will or has to take you back. It was foolish to assume after three years that any position would be available to you and that the company would still be operating under the same regime as before. As I understand it, you have had zero contact with anyone from the company since your departure of three years. Now, for the other side of this picture. Your former Manager of Customer Service did not return your call for a reason. Apparently for several months after you left, more than a handful of complaints came in regarding your work and your work attitude from customers. I was told that orders were left in limbo for weeks prior to your maternity leave including a few found in your desk. Co-workers had complained of your bragging of your "indispensable" status, yet were left to pick up the pieces of some seriously ignored product complaints. Your rehire status with the company at this time is no longer. There are many good positions out there for customer service people with good follow-through skills. Hone up on those skills and move on.

New Ladle of Learning series offers classed in cooking and the culinary arts at Centre Club in Gurnee hether you are a novice to the kitchen or a seasoned chef, Condell Medical Center's Centre Club in Gurnee is now offering the Ladle of Learning Series of classes in cooking and the culinary arts.

Presented by culinary specialists, the program provides an assortment of mouth-watering recipes, fast and easy food preparation ideas, nutrition information, entertaining tips and generous samples.

Instructors Pina Andreiw, Alison Bond Reich, Carol Mackey and Kathleen Kennedy are all exceptionally rich in culinary skills. Andreiw, a graduate of the Institute Notre Dame Deloie in Brussels, Belgium, owns a hands-on cooking school with partner, Janet Lisinski, specializing in European Cuisine. Bond Reich, a culinary educator, food writer, demonstration chef and food stylist, studied two years at the Cordon Blue Cooking School in Paris where she also catered and lectured. Her experience includes being a private chef for a U.S. Senator in California.

Mackey, a graduate of the Cooking and Hospitality Institute of Chicago, traveled for 10 years working in a variety of hospitality venues and top caterers throughout the country. In 1999, Mackey settled back in Chicago where she has been teaching her own cooking classes that have been featured on CLTV and in the Daily Herald. Kennedy, a chef and author with 20 years experience in the hospitality industry has appeared on the Food Network's "Cooking Live" and the Discover Channel's "Home Matters" shows.

All classes are open to Centre Club members and non-members and are held in the Demonstration Kitchen at the Centre Club in Gurnee, 1405 Hunt Club Road. A $45 fee is due at the time of registration and includes instruction, recipes and a gourmet dining experience. Class size is limited so register early.

Fall Appetizers (Mackey):

Friday, November 9, 6:30 - 8:30 pm

Looking for some new appetizer ideas?

Learn to make elegant and creative appetizers, with plenty of "do ahead" tips - perfect for your next party!

Thanksgiving with Flair (Andreiw & Lisinski): Wednesday, November 14, 10 am-1pm

Make this a Thanksgiving one your family will remember for years to come! Learn the techniques necessary to create Special Stuffing, Sweet Potato Casserole, Corn and Tomato bisque and more!

Holiday Desserts for a Festive Season (Bond Reich): Friday, November 16, 6 - 8 pm

Discover holiday desserts that will have your family and friends asking for second helpings! Recipes will feature, Flaming Steamed Cranberry Pudding with Hard Sauce, Bittersweet Chocolate Soufflé Cake, Apple Walnut Upside-Down Cake with Calvados Carmel Sauce and more!

The Cheese Course (Kennedy):
Saturday, November 17, 1 - 3:30 pm

Learn the basics of serving and cooking with cheese.

Italian Gourmet (Andreiw & Lisinski):

Wednesday, November 28, 10 am - 1pm
Satisfy your hunger for hearty authentic Italian food. Prepare and sample homemade Stuffed Pasta with Fresh Tomato Sauce, Stuffed Meatballs and more!

Soulful Soups (Kennedy): Thursday, November 29, 6 - 8:30 pm

From chicken soup to corn chowder, the ABC's of broth, stock and homemade soups.

Condell Hospice tenth anniversary celebration

As part of its upcoming 10th anniversary celebration, Condell Hospice will host a complimentary program by author Nancy Cobb, on Tuesday, Oct. 30, from 2 to 4 pm at Condell's Allen Conference Center on the Libertyville campus. During her presentation, Cobb will discuss excerpts from her book, "In Lieu of Flowers: A Conversation for the Living," in which she meets death through the lives of everyday people. Proving that what makes us cry can also make us laugh, Cobb will share her own and others' stories of mourning and loss as she beckons audience members to explore one of the most ordinary and difficult experiences of life. To reserve your space for this enlightening presentation, please call (847) 573-4043.

For more information about Condell Hospice, call (847) 573-4000. Condell Hospice offices are located at 115 W. Church Street in Libertyville.

Seated in his Waukegan office, Jerome "Jerry" Drobnick, founder of Drobnick Realty returns to work following an extensive rehabilitation program at Rolling Hills Manor.

Following an accident, Drobnick was released from an area hospital to undergo physical and occupational therapy. "Exercise helped me to reach my goal to be independent and return to work. Keeping active helps keep your marbles." He said, "they treated me nicely and the food was good too." Continuing he commented, "the facility was close to home, convenient, and the service was super!"

Jerry, being a well-known figure in the community, was a motivational figure here at Rolling Hills. He encouraged everyone to reach their full potential. "He would greet me every morning with a smile and salute as I came to work," states administrator Sue Harris.

Dr. Jackson is a board certified Opthalmologist and surgeon specializing in diagnosis and treatment of cataracts, glaucoma, kerataconus, myopia, hyperopia, and astigmatism. He is a highly skilled surgeon performing the most up to date procedures such as small incision "no-stitch" cataract surgery with Lens

Implants, insertion of Intrastromal Corneal Rings (INTACS), LASIK, LASEK, PRK, LTK, and Prelex.

The office recently acquired a new Heidelberg Retina Tomograph II (HRT II) specifically to diagnosis and monitor glaucoma in patients. The HRT II is a scanning laser opthalmoscope which creates a three dimensional image of the retina-allowing accurate measurement of the back of the eye anatomy. An exam with this equipment is quick and painless. It allows the physician to view the optic nerve in the back of the eye and assess it for damage due to glaucoma over periods of time. Early diagnosis and treatment of glaucoma, prevents loss of vision. The HRT

If is used for monitoring known glaucoma patients, and as a screening tool for those at high risk with a family history of the disease.

Another new addition in the office is the Alcon Summit Autonomous LADARVision® Laser used in LASIK surgery. It too is new technology, with EyeTrackerTM. EyeTrackerTM allows patients to relax during surgery by taking the worry out of moving the eyes during the procedure. The device accurately tracks > eye movements during surgery and adjusts and realigns itself between each laser pulse guiding the laser beam with pinpoint accuracy. This reduces the likelihood of nighttime glare and halos often experienced with other laser systems by reshaping the cornea with precision accuracy.

> Also on staff are Drs. Farquhar and Levine, who provide regular eye exams, refractive evaluations, and emergent eye care. Dr. Jackson also serves as a resource to Optometric Doctors in the area providing diagnostic and surgical services to their patients, when requested. Pebble Brook Nursing & Rehabilitation Centre is the cure for a quick recovery ebble Brook Nursing and Rehabilitation Centre in Lake Bluff offers many services including: Long-Term Care, (both skilled nursing and intermediate care), Alzheimer's Care, Respite Care, Hospice Care and the Transitional Care Unit (sub-acute rehab).

The goal of the Transitional Care Unit (TCU) is to facilitate a smooth transition from the hospital, after a surgical procedure or stroke, to home by means of intensive rehabilitation services. The TCU may also be appropriate for patients recovering from a prolonged or newly diagnosed illness who need rehabilitation as well as 24hour skilled nursing care.

Pebble Brook Nursing and Rehabilitation Centre offers a wide variety of subacute rehabilitation services up to seven days a week, including physical, occupational, and speech therapy. The dedicated and experienced rehabilitation department works closely with the patient's primary care physician to complete a comprehensive assessment and formulate an aggressive, proactive and individualized therapy plan which will enable the patient to regain his or her highest level of independence.

Each TCU room is a spacious two-bedroom suite, complete with a telephone and television with remote control for each patient. There is an inviting sitting area in each TCU suite with a sofa, two large chairs and a coffee table for a more homelike and relaxing atmosphere. Daily newspaper delivery and personal laundry services are provided.

Pebble Brook is located at 700 Jenkisson Ave. in Lake Bluff, on a scenic sevenacre wooded site. For more information, call 847-295-3900 or visit them on-line at www.PebbleB.com.

Earthly Goods earthly good | Save first flu shots for those most in need lu season will be here before long, and the season for flu shots will arrive even sooner.

Here in Illinois, a little courtesy may be in order as residents line up to receive their immunizations.

The state's supply of the influenza vaccine is low at the moment, and Dr. John Lumpkin, head of the state public health department, is suggesting that the earliest vaccinations be give to people who are most at risk when it comes to complications from the flu.

That group, Lumpkin explains, includes people who are 65 or older, nursing home residents and people with chronic diseases afflicting the heart or lungs.

These are the people for whom flu can be life threatening.

It is not as if those who are at lower risk will, by waiting a while, lose their chance to receive a flu shot.

The federal Centers for Disease Control and Prevention say that about 60 percent of the vaccine needed should be available by the end of October.

The rest of the supply will arrive in November and December, when residents can still get their shots and the protection they offer before the flu season begins in earnest.

Unless the supply picture changes within the next couple of weeks, those Illinois residents who can wait for their shots should do so.

Centegra in major expansion program entegra Health System, located in McHenry County, is undergoing a major expansion of its two acute care hospitals: Memorial Medical Center in Woodstock, and Northern Illinois Medical Center (NIMC) in McHenry. The $25,000,000 project will address a full range of services and programs an will focus on areas that will make a significant difference in accessing health care.

These key areas are: Ambulatory Care: Women's Health; and Cardiac Care. The groundbreakings were held in June, 2001 and the building program is scheduled for completion in 2003. The expansion will result in a dramatic change of the physical facades of both hospitals, and will greatly improve patient traffic flow, increasing the efficient use of services throughout the system.

A special benefit of the new construction is the reconfiguration of the main lobby into a highly efficient area designed to expedite the patient admitting process. The rapidly growing outpatient services will be accommodated with a full redesign of medical imaging, soon to be relocated near the Heart Center and the Women's Health center at both Memorial and NIMC. The Women's Health Center will be centralized at both hospitals and will include mammography, ultrasound, bone densitometry and an educational library.

In its initial phase of expansion, new Heart Centers at both facilities would be capable of specialty testing through cutting edge technology not currently available due to space or equipment constraints. Faster result for diagnostic tests will also decrease any backlog, giving patients and physicians potentially life-saving answers far earlier in the care process.

Centegra Health System was created when the two hospital came together to better serve the needs of the northern Illinois region. Both Memorial and NIMC are Level Two Trauma Centers and home to the Flight for Life helicopter. According to Paul Laudick, president and CEO of Centegra, "The patient is the heart of everything we do, every decision, every action, every plan. In moving forward, we recognize our responsibility to deliver seamless health care with outstanding clinical staff, appropriate support services and stateof-the-art equipment."

Quality craftsmanship is the hallmark of Lilac Apartments, constructed to meet ADA specifications and current fire code requirements. All 105 units are handicap adaptable. A locked telephone entry system provides safety and security. Seniors have a choice of five apartment layouts, ranging from 665 square feet to 959 square feet. Monthly rental rates include heat and water and no endowment or entrance fees are required.

Two multi-purpose lounges, with fireplaces, add to the cozy atmosphere at Lilac. Other common areas include a craft room, card and game room and a sundeck. Great care has been taken to preserve the six-acre park-like setting. A one-half mile paved walkway winds through acres of natural greenery and towering trees.

Because Lilac Apartments qualify for the Federal Affordable Housing Tax Credit program, the rents will remain "affordable" by Federal guidelines for 30 years to those who qualify. For more information or to arrange a tour, call Karen at 847-587-8830.

Ritacca Laser Center

Mirror, mirror on the wall, who has the clearest skin of all?

ow at the speed of light, you can rejuvenate your skin, restore its youthful appearance, and restore your confidence again. This light treatment offers the latest in rejuvenation, improving rosacea, removing brown spots, shrinking pores, and eliminating wrinkles without the down time of surgery or old lasers in the past. These Intense Pulse Light (IPL) treatments were developed by Dr. Bitter, a California dermatologist, when he was trying to remove hair on his patient's face with the light. The patient began to notice that not only was the hair disappearing, but so were the brown spots and broken blood vessels. Dr. Daniel Ritacca, an oculoplastic surgeon, was trained by Dr. Bitter and was one of the first to offer this treatment in the midwest.

Dr. Ritacca is a graduate of the University of Illinois with honors and was nominated to the society of Alpha Omega Alpha (AOA), the prestigious national society of medicine. He has been a regular guest on NBC and CBS and has been seen on Primetime with Sam Donaldson. He currently directs the Ritacca Laser Center (Vernon Hills) and the Laser Care Institute (Hoffman Estates) and employs four cosmetic and plastic surgeons—offering both the latest technology and the most qualified physicians in the medical field.

Other laser treatments in the clinic include laser vision correction with the latest flying spot lasers, breast augmentation without visible scars, liposculpture and laser hair removal, as well as the Intense Pulse Light (IPL) treatments. All consultations are free. For more information, call 800-31-LASER for a location near you, or visit their web site at www.lasercareinstitute.com.

BriteSmile process administered by an Illinois-Licensed General Dentist.

Eugene Ingles, DDS:

BriteSmile, Preventive Dentistry make winning combination

Ingles, DDS, as he talks about his new cosmetic and family dental care office in Libertyville. "And when it comes to taking care of your teeth, prevention can go a long way." Dr. Ingles, who recently expanded his practice to include the new office at 915 N. Milwaukee, along with the practice he shares with his father in Lake Zurich, brings 14 years of experience to the Libertyville area. "I grew up in the area, so I feel like I have a sense of the needs of the community," he says.

Dr. Ingles' office is also a BriteSmile Associated Center, which uses a breakthrough new "blue light" technology and a gentle whitening gel to safely whiten your teeth to their ultimate natural whiteness (Over eight shades whiter on average) in just one visit of about an hour. "We also have a strong commitment to young children in preventing decay through fluoride treatments, through sealants, and through stressing regular recall visits," he adds.

An honors graduate from the Loyola School of Dentistry in Chicago, Dr. Ingles credits his father as well as three friends for guiding him toward the healthcare field. "My dad encouraged me to become proactive in preventing problems," Dr. Ingles says. I share a lot of my father's thoughts and try to blend them with the newer ideas. I also had three friends in college, who today are doctors in orthopedic surgery, urology, and anesthesia. They're also very active in their professions, and it's probably one of the reasons I'm so active with mine, like the ADA, the Chicago Dental Society and the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry," he says.

For an appointment with Dr. Ingles, call 362-1337, or visit his office at 915 N. Milwaukee Ave., Suite B, Libertyville.

t the leading-edge cancer hospitals, patients are treated in ways other hospitals don't. Because the cancer specialists know about the positive results achieved by research studies using nutrition to combat cancer, nutritional therapy has been made a part of their innovative, comprehensive treatment program. This personal team of experts not only includes doctors and oncologists skilled in the latest medical technology, but onsite nutritionists. And because the cancer care is compassionate as well as advanced, the team also includes the support of psychological and spiritual counselors. At Cancer Treatment Centers of America, they are winning the fight against cancer every day. Find out about the options that can help you win your fight.

Personalized Nutritional Programs

When you choose one of the hospitals, you'll be introduced to a doctor of naturopathic medicine and an experienced nutritionist who will be part of your team. They will formulate a customized therapeutic dietary program, including vitamin and mineral supplements, to meet your specific needs. Your nutrition program will be designed to stimulate your immune system to fight your disease, and to enhance your own body's fighting ability. Nutritional therapy also strengthens your physical well being. and has been shown to decrease the side effects of certain treatments and add to the quality of your life.

Innovative Medicine

Doctors from around the world bring their expertise in breakthrough treatments to this program at Cancer Treatment Centers of America. As a result, we place higher emphasis on the quality of patient care. Many of the specialists are triple-board-certified. And they are not only experts, they have a heart. They take the time to listen to you. To explain. And to involve you in your treatment, which may include, in addition to traditional medical therapy, treatment options available at only a handful of the nation's most advanced cancer hospitals.

These options include:

High-Dose Rate Brachytherapyto target radiation directly to the site of a tumor or to an area surrounding a lumpectomy while sparing healthy tissue. For breast, lung, prostate and gynecological cancer.

Chemotherapy-to maximize the intensity and effectiveness while minimizing side effects.

Bone Marrow Transplantation Therapy-to destroy cancer cells and maintain the body's bone marrow defense system, through the use of very high doses of chemotherapy and stem cell rescue.

intra-Arterial infusion-to administer chemotherapy directly to the pancreas, liver, head and neck, via splenic and hepatic arterial approaches.

Local Hyperthermia-to use the heat of ultrahigh frequency sound waves directed toward the tumor to destroy cancer cells, and to make them ore susceptible to other forms of treatment.

Above; Cancer Treatment Centers of America, which treats cancer patients from all 50 states and 45 foreign countries, has experienced double-digit growth in new cancer patients for the past several years and needs more room. The current $4.5 million expansion project will add 30,000 square feet to the more than 125,000 square-foot hospital. The addition will represent a dramatic improvement in outpatient capacity, from 18-39 stations. When construction is complete, the area currently reserved for construction equipment will be improved and feature 60 patient parking spaces.

Immunotherapy-to use the body's own naturally occurring defense substances to destroy cancer cells.

Intensity Modulated Radiation
Therapy (IMRT)-to deliver high doses of radiation to hard-to-reach tumors, such as in the brain, head and neck areas. while sparing healthy tissue.

Photodynamic Therapy (PDT)-to destroy tumor cells through the use of a light-sensitive drug, activated by a low light energy laser. For esophageal, early-stage lung cancer and several other types of cancer.

Comprehensive Hepatic Center-to offer tumor ablation, chemoembolization, regional biologic therapy, radiation therapy and research for living cancer patients. One of the few facilities in the country to offer such a program.

Physical Therapy 'Motion for Life'

At Cancer Treatment Centers of America, we believe you shouldn't have to feel worse to get better. The proprietary physical therapy program "Motion for Life" is designed to strengthen muscles and maintain a level of physical activity that will overcome the weakness and energy loss some individuals experience during treatments. Your physical therapist is part of your treatment team and will work with you to create a simple exercise program that meets your individual needs. The benefits of "Motion for Life" can extend for a lifetime. Continuing your prescribed program at home can help you remain active and do the things you want to do.

Emotional Support, Psychological Counseling

Cancer affects more than the individual. It affects everyone in the family. The professional staff of specialty trained counselors and pyschotherapists helps you and your family to use that part of y ourselves that is best able to cope with this profound change in your lives. They bring compassion and understanding to the feats, anger and hope expressed by you and your loved ones. The therapeutic relationship also helps you fight your disease. Your treatment team includes people who have specialized training pyschoneuroimmunolo-

gy. Through this form of therapy, you learn to use your psychological resources to enhance your inner well being, which may stimulate your immune system to help you better fight your disease. At Cancer Treatment Centers of America, the treatment options help you fight back with everything you've got.

Spiritual Support

Available for patients and their families, the on-site support program respects each patient's religious beliefs. The interdenominational chaplains will visit you as often as you like, or visits can be arranged from clergy of your own faith. Ecumenical services are held on-site. A specialty trained member of the clergy will become part of your treatment team. During therapy, emphasis is placed on using the patient's religious beliefs as part of the defense system that enhances the patient's inner well-being, so the body is more responsive to the medical treatment.

If you or someone you love has been diagnosed with cancer, call one of the cancer information specialists to explore the innovative treatment options available at the hospitals.

A tomato a day keeps the oncologist away.

That may not be entirely true but it is true that tomatoes, along with many other foods, have been proven to have cancer fighting properties.

In fact, studies have shown that just five servings of fruits and vegetables daily can prevent as much as 20 percent of all cancers. The cancer fighting benefits of proper nutrition apply to those who have been diagnosed and treated for cancer as well.

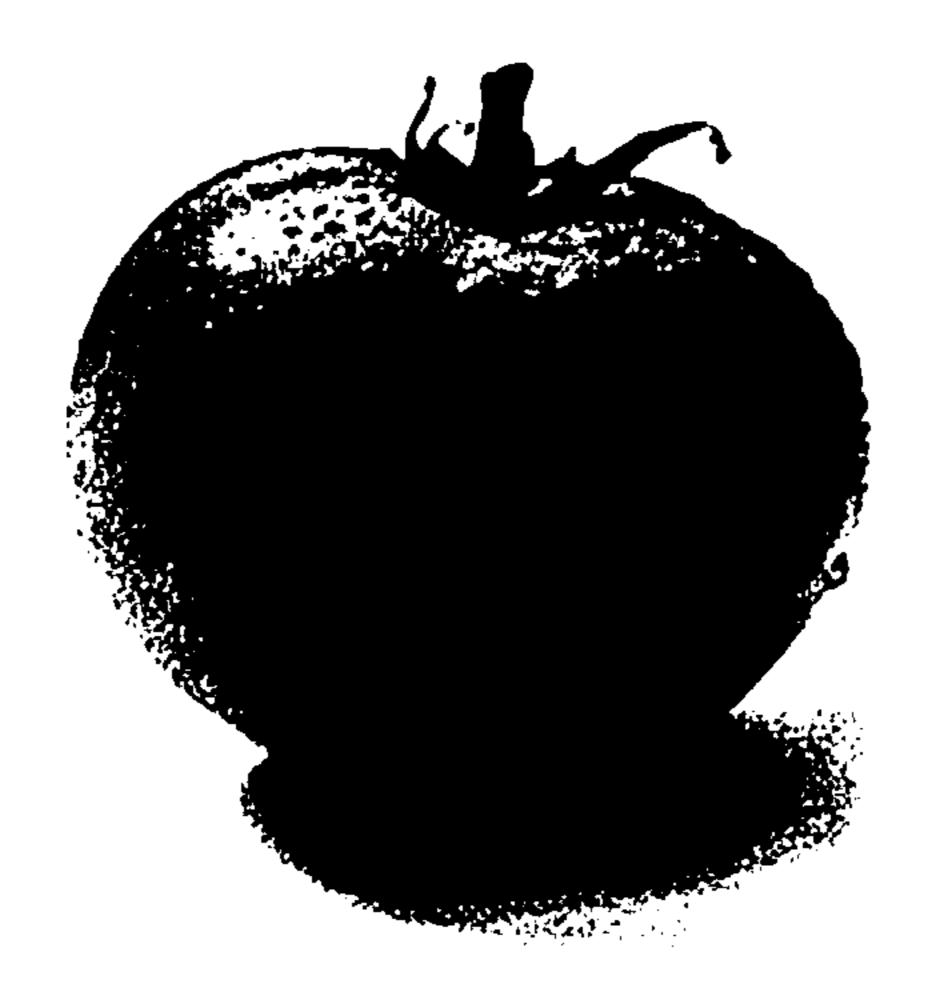

But keeping proper nutritional habits can be very complicated, especially when challenged with the rigors of traditional cancer treatment. If you add in complications from an unhealthy liver, renal system, or diabetes, the proper roadmap for nutrition gets even a little more gray.

That is why consulting a nutritionist can be just what the doctor ordered. Your one-hour consultation is a phone call away. Kim Dalzell, PhD, RD, LD, is an oncology nutritionist with over a decade of experience in the cancer treatment field. She is the program director for holistic nutrition services at Cancer Resource center in Gurnee.
